TARIFF CAUSES NO REAL ALARM.

Nation Expects Prosperity to Continue.

Revision Still a Year Off at the Worst.

By that Time the Democrats May Be Much Wiser.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prospects of Democratic tariff revision has not caused the slightest apprehension on the part of Chicago business men, the general prosperity being enjoyed by the country will be imperiled.

Merchants, bankers and professional men who tonight discussed the possibilities of the election of Wilson announced a firm belief that good times were too well established to be impaired by the success of any party. Moreover, the probability that Congress will not take action on the tariff question until its session a year from December has had the effect in quieting the fears of the timid. During this period it is believed that the new administration, under the guiding hand of a man of Mr. Wilson's type, will have had an opportunity to investigate conditions and carry out the proposed programme of revision without interfering with business.

CROPS HELP SOME. Good crop conditions, too, are looked upon as a means of preventing possible business depression. Should crops be as good next year, as this, it is said that even the prospects of radical tariff legislation on the part of Congress at its next session could not have a serious effect upon business generally.

Edward B. Butler, president of Butler Brothers, said that the personality of Gov. Wilson would play an important part in maintaining confidence during the early part of the new administration. "Everybody concedes that Mr. Wilson is an able and honest man," said Butler. "It is my opinion that the present good times are too well established to be materially impaired by the success of any party."

The possibility of injury to business through Democratic success, of course, lies in the promise of radical tariff reform. But with Mr. Wilson in the Presidential chair, I do not believe that that danger is as great as it is at present.

John B. Shedd, president of Marshall Field and Company, leaves that a continuation of present prosperity depends not exclusively upon tariff legislation, but careful banking practices as well.

"Of course I am sorry that President Taft was not re-elected," said Shedd. "But I am well satisfied with the result. If the Democrats are elected, and I believe they will be, to some a well-considered elastic currency and banking act, and are conservative in handling any new tariff legislation leading to the protective side rather than the revenue only, we will have a continuation of the good times which have prevailed during the last part of the present administration."

NO IMMEDIATE EFFECT. James A. Patten, Evanston's retired wheat speculator, expressed the opinion that the change of administration would have no immediate effect on business.

"Prosperity, of course, now depends to a great extent upon what Congress does on tariff legislation," said Patten. "But it must be remembered that there is to be no immediate and radical change in conditions and I believe that by the time any change is made it will have been so considered that no serious damage will be done."

Another business man who is firm in the belief that present conditions will not be materially changed is A. Sprague, president of Sprague, Warner & Co.

"Prosperity will continue at least during the coming year without any change in business conditions," said Sprague. "It is not at all apprehensive of the future because of this change of administration. However, it depends largely upon the President, and I believe that the wise and conservative policy that has been followed in his hands has been a success."

SOME UNCERTAINTY. James Simpson, vice-president of Marshall Field & Co., said: "The fundamental conditions that are responsible for the present prosperity are so well established that no action by the present administration is likely to interfere with it. There is no doubt in my mind but that we will enjoy the present prosperity and business conditions for the next year or two."

"The prospects of tariff revision, of course, will cause some uncertainty, but I do not believe that this will be a particularly disturbing factor."

George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank, said that since Gov. Wilson's election was not a surprise to anybody who had been watching political conditions the reaction had been anticipated and discounted.

"The best information at hand is that Mr. Wilson will not call a special session of Congress to consider the tariff question," said Mr. Reynolds. "That means that no legislation will be passed by Congress in all probability, until a year from next December. If, in the meantime, crop conditions are equal to this year's crops, business conditions will be such that the prosperity being enjoyed today will continue for at least a year and a half."

The new administration could not do anything, if it desired to do so, which I feel certain it does not—that would impair business conditions during this period. The proposed tariff legislation, consequently, will be the result of long thought and considered in moderation rather than in the heat of political strife. Such being the case, it seems probable that the new tariff legislation will be acceptable to everybody concerned."

A. C. Bartlett, president of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., said: "I do not believe that the change of administration will have the slightest effect upon business conditions. The people are prosperous and there is no reason why the possibility of tariff revision should change conditions, at least in the near future."

electoral vote was concerned. Massachusetts and Maine, which have been Republican ever since President made the first Presidential race for the Republican party, yielded pluralities for Wilson. So did Connecticut, which has been a vacillating State.

Pennsylvania, which has been one of the mighty fortresses of Republicanism ever since 1860, is still in doubt. Taft, Wilson and Roosevelt are running a race of remarkable evenness on the complete returns.

OHIO DEMOCRATIC.

Ohio, which has been steadily Republican since 1855, save in 1892, when it gave one of its electoral votes to Cleveland, has been swept by the Democrats. The incomplete returns indicate that Wilson has carried President Taft's home State by an overwhelming plurality. All three of the home States of the leading rivals for the Presidency, in fact, have been annexed by Wilson—Ohio, New Jersey and New York, where Wilson has given a vote of landslide proportions.

A large portion of the Western States are still in doubt. Indiana has gone Democratic by a considerable margin, although Wilson did not get as large a vote as did Bryan four years ago, still on the face of the incomplete returns.

IN THE WEST. The Republican strongholds in the West that were not smashed by the Democrats appear to have fallen under the battering ram of the Progressives. Michigan, which had been Republican since 1856, excepting in 1892, when it gave Cleveland five of its fourteen electoral votes, has been carried by Roosevelt, on the face of incomplete returns.

Illinois, which has gone Democratic only once since the Civil War, has been carried by Roosevelt by 60,000 plurality—the strongest Roosevelt State.

Iowa, which has been Republican in Presidential elections ever since the foundation of the party, has moved out of its old column. Incomplete returns indicate that Roosevelt has carried the State by a narrow margin of about 5,000, but returns from Democratic strongholds have not arrived in full number, and it looks like Roosevelt on the face of the incomplete returns, but analysis of the partial totals indicates that Wilson may carry the State.

WILSON LANDS NEW YORK. The earliest returns from New York, which were among the first significant figures to come over the wire, demonstrated that Wilson had won the great 1912 Presidential race. From the first they indicated that the Democrat was polling about as many votes as his two rivals combined and that he was sweeping the down-State sections of New York City and New York City itself. The forty-five electoral votes of New York, when added to estimates made by forecasters who had depended on information received at Progressive headquarters, outside of the claims of Senator Dixon, placed Wilson within two votes of a majority of the electoral college. Massachusetts, which came in shortly afterwards, added eighteen votes, putting Wilson over the line with sixteen votes to spare on the estimates of the Progressives themselves, and with twenty-six States still to be heard from in the count.

The first returns showed that Taft was running much faster than his adversaries were expecting. In New York he ran second in the down-State sections with Roosevelt lagging in third place, while in New York City Roosevelt ran second.

California, which was classed as the strongest Roosevelt State next to Illinois, appears to have given a plurality for Wilson. The Taft men who were unable to get their electoral tickets on the ballot, added to rolling up the vote for the doubtful States, Wilson apparently being favored on the incomplete returns.

Oregon and Nevada, Wyoming, Arizona and Idaho have not been heard from up to 2 o'clock. The States in which Roosevelt is favored by the incomplete returns are Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Michigan, which was expected, and probably more than offset by Taft pluralities.

Pluralities for the last sixteen years, beginning with the McKinley State plurality of 264,469 in 1896 and ending with President Taft's winning figure of 202,663 four years ago.

IN NEW ENGLAND. The early returns indicated that Taft had won the other three New England States, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. At midnight, however, Rhode Island became a doubtful State, later votes reported indicating that its electoral votes would go to Wilson. The Taft pluralities in Vermont and New Hampshire are also divided to a few hundred votes and appeared likely to end up together. On the face of the latest returns it appears not improbable that Wilson has carried all the New England States.

Wilson and Marshall will have a greater electoral vote than ever before given a national ticket. The incomplete returns indicate that they will have 362 votes in the Electoral College without counting what they may secure from doubtful territory. This eclipses the high water mark of 326 electoral votes set by Roosevelt in 1904.

The early returns established the election of Wilson. At midnight it remained a matter of conjecture as to the size of the popular vote and the electoral majority given the Democratic national ticket.

Returns from some of the States will be delayed for the coming continued until late at night. In some parts of Minnesota the booths were open at midnight. In Oregon, where the polls closed at 8 o'clock, the reports of the Wilson victories in the East three hours behind New York told the Democrats to redouble their efforts at the polls. Posters were strewn broadcast announcing the vote in New York and New England. Long after midnight the reports indicated that New York had given Wilson and Marshall a vote of landslide proportions, voters were still marking their ballots on the Coast in some States.

BY STATES.

MAINE. PORTLAND (Me.) Nov. 5.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Success of the Democratic electoral ticket in Maine, which will give Wilson a vote of 16, was indicated by returns at 10 p.m. from three-fourths of the State. At that hour, Gov. Wilson had 45,144, a plurality of 4,681 over Roosevelt and 16,864 over Taft.

VERMONT. WHITE RIVER JUNCTION (Vt.) Nov. 5.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] President Taft carried Vermont today by 254 votes. Complete returns show the following results: Taft, 23,347; Roosevelt, 22,573; Wilson, 15,397.

CONNECTICUT. NEW HAVEN (Conn.) Nov. 5.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] With more than half the vote counted at 10 p.m., the indications were that Connecticut will cast its seven electoral votes for Wilson and Marshall.

NEW HAMPSHIRE. CONCORD (N.H.) Nov. 5.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Although President Taft had a great lead by the early returns in New Hampshire, the margin was wiped out later and at midnight Gov. Wilson was more than 100 votes ahead. Returns from eighty towns and wards out of 239 gave Taft, 6,602; Wilson, 6,742; Roosevelt, 3,358. The new Legislature will be Republican, according to returns received.

NEW YORK. NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 5.—[Special Dispatch to The Times by Federal (Wireless) Line.] Woodrow Wilson has carried the city of New York by 156,000 and the State by 184,000, thereby upsetting big Republican Presidential pluralities for the last sixteen years, beginning with the McKinley State plurality of 264,469 in 1896 and ending with President Taft's winning figure of 202,663 four years ago.

Over the present representation, a Democrat will likely succeed Frank O. Briggs as United States Senator. Whether the next President of the State Senate, who will succeed Wilson as Governor, will be a Democrat, was undetermined by early returns.

MARYLAND. BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Likely successor, Frank O. Briggs as United States Senator. Whether the next President of the State Senate, who will succeed Wilson as Governor, will be a Democrat, was undetermined by early returns.

PENNSYLVANIA. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Wilson and Roosevelt are running neck and neck in Pennsylvania. In 1904 out of 537 election districts in the State outside of Philadelphia, Taft had 28,645; Wilson, 42,037; Roosevelt, 4,046.

In Philadelphia with less than half of the returns in, Taft leads Wilson by 14,000 votes and Roosevelt by 11,000.

NEW JERSEY. NEWARK (N.J.) Nov. 5.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] New Jersey has given Wilson a plurality estimated upon returns at 25,000 to 45,000 over Roosevelt. Returns from the South showed Taft in third place. His vote was less than half of Wilson's. The heaviest vote ever cast in the State and a long ballot delayed the count. But 127 districts of the State's 179 had been heard from at midnight. They gave Wilson, 84,017; Taft, 39,727; Roosevelt, 68,118. Ten of the State's Representatives in the next Congress will be Democrats, two will be Republicans. Democratic gain is three.

SOUTH DAKOTA. SIOUX FALLS (S.D.) Nov. 5.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Slow returns from the State indicated that Roosevelt had carried the State by a small plurality. Returns from 175 out of 185 precincts gave Wilson, 62,843; Roosevelt, 52,141; by Byrne, Republican, and Johnson, Democrat, for Governor, running practically even.

NORTH DAKOTA. GRAND FORKS (N.D.) Nov. 5.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] At 10 o'clock tonight the indications were that Wilson had carried North Dakota. Taft and Roosevelt were running close together, but far behind the Democratic candidate. The Republican State ticket, headed by Congressman L. R. Hanna, for Governor, probably has won the election by a safe margin.

ILLINOIS. CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Late returns, which included many from Democratic counties in the southern part of the State, took away from the Roosevelt plurality of the early returns and gave Wilson a slight lead. His total on 692 precincts heard from was 14 votes more than Roosevelt. The returns on 692 precincts outside of Cook county gave Taft 42,297; Wilson, 42,587; Roosevelt, 42,843. Funk (Prog) went into second place, putting Deeney (Rep) third in the returns for Governor received up to 10:15 o'clock. The vote for 857 precincts out of 4236 in the State gave Duns (Dem) 108,667; Funk, 67,789; Deeney, 46,441.

MEASURER RETURNS INDICATE THE defeat of former Speaker Cannon by Frank P. O'Hair, for Governor, probably in the 18th District. Six precincts in Vermilion county, normally heavily Republican, gave Cannon 417 and O'Hair 374, indicating that the latter is holding his own in Cannon's home county, where he expected to Saving the Country. CANDIDATES AT THE POLLS. Now Each of Nominees Votes for Himself.

Colonel Takes a Jab at Senator Root.

Johnson's Father Swings in Line With Democrats.

BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES. PRINCETON (N.J.) Nov. 5.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson voted the straight Democratic ticket at 10:15 o'clock in the interior of an engine-house. He was in the voting booth four minutes and remarked as he came out that the ballot was so big he "had a hard time finding the Democratic Presidential electors."

On the way to the voting booth, Wilson stopped abruptly in front of a little frame house. "When I was a freshman in college," he said, "one night I got a fishbone in my throat and jumped off that piazza times in an effort to jolt it out. It wouldn't budge. When the nominee arrived at the voting booth he was greeted by a group of photographers and spectators."

A half-dozen photographers had entered their cameras in the interior of the little engine-house. "HE'S STILL GOVERNOR. I'll enforce the law if you like and have these men put out; I'm governor, you know," the nominee said. "The crowd laughed and they were enjoying the scene too much to be literal."

The Governor said to wait a few minutes before one of the three polling booths was vacant. Norman Armour, Princeton, 1877, was in one of the booths.

"Governor," he said, "when I was New York I saw a banner headed 'The National Progressive Republican ticket.' That is the ticket I voted for."

"I feel very much complimented," answered the Governor; "you know I am always wondered at those banners that said 'Progressive Republican ticket.' I had always thought the Progressive nominations were irregular. The crowd laughed and they were enjoying the scene too much to be literal."

Phenomenal BIOGRAPHY OF WILSON.

The Eighth President from the Old Dominion.

Fifth Pedagogue to Reach the White House.

Man of the Hour With a Fascinating Career.

By FREDERICK LINDSAY TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 5.—[Special Dispatch.] Thomas Woodrow Wilson, President-elect, is the first man born south of the Mason and Dixon line to be elected to that office by either of the great political parties since the Civil War. He was born at Staunton, Va., December 28, 1856, and will be the twenty-eighth President. He was a successful professor and Princeton advanced materially during his presidency.

Then came his advent into politics. New Jersey was in the grip of a political machine. The eyes of the party leaders fell on Wilson. "We'll elect him," they said, "and then control him." They did the former, but made a failure of the latter. Two weeks after his inauguration he announced himself in favor of direct primaries. And he obtained them in a political battle in which the men who had helped elect him were his chief adversaries. A coterie of young men, one of them a graduate of Princeton, made up their minds that in the New Jersey Governor there was the material for a President.

BACKED BY COLLEGE MEN.

"Would he make the fight?" That he did is now a matter of history.

With managers unskilled in old-time political methods they went to the floor of the memorable Baltimore convention with new ideas. This new brand of politics proved successful. Wilson was nominated and elected.

Woodrow Wilson is of Scotch-Irish extraction. His paternal grandfather, Judge James Wilson, came to this country in 1837. He settled in Philadelphia and became a member of the staff of William Duane's newspaper, the Aurora. He married Anna Adams, an Irish girl who came here on the same vessel with him. They soon went to Ohio, finally settling in Xenia, where he established the Western Herald. He then started the Pennsylvania Advocate in Pittsburgh. He had four sons, the youngest of whom was Joseph Ruggles Wilson, father of the President-elect.

FATHER A PROFESSOR.

Joseph married Janet Woodrow, at Chillicothe, O., June 7, 1849. Her father was a Presbyterian minister who came to America in 1836. Joseph R. Wilson became a professor of rhetoric for a short time in Jefferson College and later professor of history in the Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia.

For a short time they lived in Staunton, Va., where he had been called as a pastor. He took his wife and two daughters with him. In Christmas week of the following year the President-elect was born. In 1863 the family moved to Augusta, Ga., and lived there continuously until it was time for Thomas Woodrow Wilson to go to college. Woodrow Wilson remembers distinctly the Civil War. One event that stands out strongly in his memory, however, is the view he had of Jefferson Davis, a prisoner, riding by on a horse on his way to Fortress Monroe. The family moved to Columbia, S. C., in 1876.

BECOMES A LAWYER.

In 1873 the son was sent to Davidson College at Davidson, N. C., where he studied and took a prominent part in athletics. He entered Princeton in 1875 as a member of the class of '79. When he was graduated he stood forty-first in a class of 122. He was editor of the Princetonian and an active member of the American Whig Debating Society. He studied law in the University of Virginia. He was admitted to the bar in 1882 and went to Atlanta to practice. While he was waiting for clients he began to write "Constitutional Government," a book which later became famous.

In 1885 he met Miss Ellen Louisa Axson while at the home of his cousin in Rome, Ga. Soon afterward he went to Baltimore, where Miss Axson came to New York to study art. They met frequently in the course of the young author's visits to New York and were married June 24, 1885, in Savannah.

Mr. Wilson became professor of history and political economy at Wesleyan University, Middletown, in 1888 and two years later was elected to the chair of jurisprudence and politics at Princeton.

WORK AT PRINCETON.

His first real position as an instructor, however, was at Bryn Mawr College, where he remained three years—1887-90. In 1893 he succeeded Francis Landry Patton as president of Princeton University. He came into office with decided convictions as to the methods which should govern a university. By the time he had resigned in 1910 to become Governor of New Jersey he had left his indelible marks upon the university, most conspicuous of which are the editorial system of which he is the author. Among his best-known literary works are "The State," "The Nation," "The Old Master and Other Political Essays," "The Literature and Other Essays," "George Washington," "A History of the American People," and "Constitutional Government in the United States." The honorary degree of LL.D. was conferred upon him by Lake Forest College, Rutgers College, Tulane University, Johns Hopkins University, the University of Pennsylvania, Brown University, Harvard University, Williams College and Dartmouth College. The honorary degree of LL.D. was conferred on him by Yale University.

RAPID GROWTH.

His growth from the time he became professor of Princeton to the present day has been accomplished by phenomenal strides. A man of great force, it was certain that when he took the chair at Princeton there would be some who might disagree with him. This he found to be true. His administration was successful, but not without its troubles. There were many clashes between the "Wilson way" and the "Old way." There were some resignations from the faculty and some long standing friendships were severed.

His writings appeared at close intervals and he frequently lectured.

IOWA FAVORS ROOSEVELT.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DES MOINES, Nov. 5.—Estimates at 9 o'clock from seven scattered counties out of ninety-nine in the State gave Roosevelt an estimated majority of 1558.

Thirty-seven scattered precincts over Iowa gave Taft 2622; Wilson, 1848; Roosevelt, 3523. Vote in 1908, Taft, 486; Wilson, 3175; Bryan, 2549.

Forty-three city and one county precincts gave Taft 3541; Wilson, 1848; Roosevelt, 3523.

Same precincts give Clark (Republican) for Governor, 6213; Dunn (Democrat) 2916 (Stevens (Progressive) 3070.

BRYAN'S STATE STRONG FOR WILSON.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

OMAHA (Neb.) Nov. 5.—Twenty-five precincts outside of Douglas county (Omaha) widely scattered gave, Taft, 1641; Wilson, 3097; Roosevelt, 1945. Same in 1908 gave: Taft, 3600; Bryan, 2575.

TEXAS FIGURES NO SURPRISE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

DALLAS (Tex.) Nov. 5.—Returns from 104 precincts out of 4800 in Texas give Wilson, 7274; Roosevelt, 448; Taft, 492; Debs, 474.

THE HOOSIER STATE GOES FOR WILSON.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

Taft Uses Deliberation in Marking His Ballot—Cheered by Old-time Neighbors.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—President Taft took the full allotted five minutes when he voted shortly after noon. He voted each of the six separate ballots, five of which are devoted to local affairs. Before visiting the polling booth the President visited with a number of Cincinnati friends, including Congressman Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Col. Roosevelt. President Taft was cheered as he drove through the streets on his way to vote.

A Foregone Conclusion.

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Nov. 5.—(By A. P. Night Wire.) Although the vote is high, indications are that Woodrow Wilson will carry Florida by the usual Democratic majority.

Gov. Marshall, Democratic Vice-President Elect, Takes His Politics the Old-fashioned Way.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Nov. 5.—"I suppose you voted the straight ticket, Governor?" responded Gov. Thomas H. Marshall, Democratic candidate for Vice-President, just after he had cast his ballot.

The Governor was accompanied by Meredith Nicholson, the author, to the polls.

THE JOHNSON FEUD.

Hiram Rejected by His Father Who Casts His Ballot for Wilson and Marshall.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 5.—Grover L. Johnson, father of the Progressive candidate for Vice-President, Hiram W. Johnson, did not cast his vote for his son when he went to the polls today. Grover L. Johnson, whose long term in the Assembly gained for him the title of dean of the Legislature in the old days, voted for Wilson and Marshall. Johnson, Sr., was defeated in the primaries for the Republican nomination for Assemblyman and when the local Taft organization recently decided to throw its strength to Wilson, Grover L. got into that band wagon.

"I have only the highest regard for my son, but he is on the wrong side of the political fence," said Grover L.

ROOSEVELT AT POLLS.

SAYS HE "CINCHED" ROOT.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

OYSTER BAY, Nov. 5.—Col. Roosevelt arrived at the polling place in a fire truck house at 12:05 o'clock this afternoon and a few minutes later had cast his ballot. Seven neighbors accompanied him and he waited twenty minutes until each of them had voted before returning to Sagamore Hill. While in the polling place a flashlight was taken as Col. Roosevelt dropped his ballot into the box and the crowd cheered. A crowd of villagers had waited for an hour in front of the truck house for Col. Roosevelt. As his automobile rounded the corner the people sent up a cheer. The colonel doffed the brown army hat, which he wears when he is at home, and waved an acknowledgment. With him were James A. Moes, his butler; Ralph Ames, another house servant; and Charles Lee, the coachman, all negroes; Arthur Merriam, his chauffeur; and Howard Browne, William Bailey and William Carl, farm hands. Two detectives guarding Col. Roosevelt completed the party. Theodore Roosevelt, Ballot No. 245, called out the clerk, as the colonel entered a booth. He remained there for five minutes, then came out and deposited his ballot in the box. Then he went outside and sat in his motor car. He waited for a quarter of an hour until the others from Sagamore Hill had all voted. "I think I cinched Root last night," said Col. Roosevelt, referring to his attack on the Senator, and John G. Murn, Louis Marie Rand, William D. Guthrie, New York lawyers, in his speech in Oyster Bay last night. "I'm not through with these gentlemen either, whatever the outcome of the election may be. I wished they had made their statement about me thirty days ago. If they had done so I would have hammered them with returns. The vote Roosevelt, 6; Taft, 5; Wilson, 4. In 1908: Bryan, 1; Taft, 5.

RECEIVE BULLETINS.

At the White House Atty.-Gen. and Mrs. Wickham, Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Fisher and Secretary of Commerce and Labor and Mrs. Nagel gathered to receive bulletins furnished by the telegraph companies and the press association. They occupied the Cabinet room. The Secretaries declined to discuss for publication the defeat of President Taft or make any comment upon the election returns, but White House employees frankly stated tonight that the President and members of his administration considered the bulletin hopeful from the day the Republican forces were broken by the nomination of the Progressive ticket. At 11 o'clock President Taft conceded the election of Wilson.

There was considerable enthusiasm in front of the bulletin boards at the newspaper offices where returns were shown by stereoscopic. Democratic gains were loudly applauded, the pictures of Democratic leaders were received with wild applause, shouting there are many Democrats among the Federal office-holders who have held their places during the long period of Republican administration, through the protection of the civil service, and that many have entered the public service under the civil service laws.

"I am sure did," responded Gov. Thomas H. Marshall, Democratic candidate for Vice-President, just after he had cast his ballot.

QUININE? NO! PAPES BEST FOR BAD COLD

First Dose of Pape's Cold Compound Relieves All Malaria from a Cold or the Grippe.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach, limbs or any part of the body.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhs, discharges, soreness, hoarseness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world, which will cure your cold or end the Grippe as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—accept no substitute—contains no quinine. Belongs in every home. Takes nice—acts gently.

STATES CHOOSE NEW GOVERNORS.

Executives Elected in Twenty-nine Commonwealths.

Brief Biographies of the Successful Nominees.

Some Startling Surprises Feature the Contests.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the Governors were elected yesterday, what experience in public life have they had, what are the main facts in their careers and to what political parties do they belong? These questions will be answered in brief below. Those taken first and appear, therefore, out of alphabetical order in the list.

Illinois—Edward Fitzgerald Dunne (Dem.) was elected Governor of Illinois in 1911. He was born in 1857 and served as judge of the Circuit Court of Cook county from 1892 until his election as Mayor. He was a Presidential elector in 1908 and a delegate-at-large to the Denver convention in 1908. He was twice president of the Iroquois Club and a vice-president of the National Civic Federation. He has also been president of the League of American Municipalities. Mr. Dunne made his campaign throughout the State as an active foe of "jack-potters" and "patronage," and his friends assert that he has broadened in his views since he occupied the Mayor's chair.

NUMBERS FAMILY. Mr. Dunne is a native of Waterville, Ct., where he was born October 12, 1857. He was educated at Peoria, Ill., and afterward at Trinity College, Dublin, where he became first honor man in his class. His law studies were completed in Chicago, where he has lived since his admission to the bar. In 1881 he married Elizabeth J. Kelly of Chicago. They have thirteen children and are living in Chicago.

Colorado—E. M. Ammons, Democrat, is a wealthy stockman and ranchman of Lorimer county, about 54 years of age. He has been active in politics for twenty years and has represented his district in both branches of the Legislature for ten years, the last two terms as State Senator.

BALDWIN AGAIN. Connecticut—Simon Eben Baldwin, Democrat, was elected Governor of Connecticut in 1911, having served as associate justice and chief justice of the Supreme Court of Errors of his State. Gov. Baldwin has achieved a national reputation as a lawyer and has written a number of authoritative works on the law. He was at one time a Republican.

Delaware—Thomas M. Monaghan, Democrat, has been prominent in State politics for twelve years. He has served two terms as State Senator, and was elected president pro tem by the Republicans after they failed to elect one of their own party. He has also served in the lower House of the Assembly.

Florida—Park Trammell, Democrat, was Attorney-General of Florida at the age of 32. Prior to his election to that office in 1905 he had been City Clerk and twice Mayor of Lakeland, had sat in the State Assembly and been a State Senator. Mr. Trammell is largely self-educated, having gone to work at the age of 15.

RISE OF HAWLEY. Idaho—James H. Hawley, Democrat, serving his first term as Governor. Before he entered the Governor's office he had served in the Iowa House of Representatives and the Senate, had been District Attorney for the Second Iowa District and United States Attorney for the State. He was born in 1847 and was one of the pioneers of the Territory.

Indiana—Samuel Moffett Ralston, Democrat, was the nominee of his party for Secretary of State of Indiana in 1904 and 1908, but was defeated by the Republican nominee of those years. He was president of the school board of Lebanon from 1908 to 1912. With this exception he has never held office.

Iowa—E. G. Dunn, Democrat, is a grain dealer and for the last two years has been secretary of the Iowa Grain Dealers' Association of Iowa. He was born on a farm and was educated at the University of Iowa. When he announced that he would be a candidate for the nomination for Governor his fellow townsmen at Mason City, regardless of party affiliation, joined in giving him a reception.

A WILSON MAN. Kansas—George H. Hodges, Democrat, led the fight for Woodrow Wilson in his State when every other Democrat of importance was against him. He has served two terms in the State Senate and was found supporting every progressive measure introduced. He has served two terms in his party. Mr. Hodges is a wealthy lumber merchant.

Massachusetts—Eugene Noble Foss, Democrat, was first elected Governor of his State in 1910 and was re-elected in 1911. Previously to that time he had been elected to a vacancy in Congress. He began a campaign for tariff revision in 1902. Mr. Foss was originally a Republican, but joined the Democratic party in order to work for political reforms in which he believed.

Michigan—Woodbridge N. Ferris, Democrat, was a candidate for Congress in 1892 and for Governor in 1894. He is proprietor of the Ferris Institute at Big Rapids, a private school. He was born in New York, was graduated in medicine from the University of Michigan and was principal of a business college at Freeport, Ill., for a time. He made his campaign for Governor as an energetic Progressive.

REPUBLICAN WINS. Minnesota—Adolph O. Eberhart, Republican, became Governor of Minnesota in 1909 on the death of Governor Johnson. At the election in 1908 he received a majority of 32,000 votes, notwithstanding the fact that the late Governor, running on the opposition ticket, won by 72,400 votes. Gov. Eberhart was born in Sweden.

Missouri—Elliott W. Major, Democrat, is Attorney-General of Missouri, a position to which he was elected in 1908. He is a native of Missouri, having been born there in 1844. After being admitted to the bar, he became

Six Hundred Drinking Men and Women Saved

By the Neal Drink Habit Treatment Which is a Harmless, Vegetable Remedy.

Six hundred drink-wrecked men means at least three thousand unfortunate, dependent women and children who suffer mental and physical misery as a result of the evil influence of excessive use of alcoholic liquors.

During the past two years the Los Angeles Neal Institute has been the most successful drink habit treatment station in Southern California—it has made hundreds of happy homes.

The regular use of alcoholic stimulants always results in mental, physical and financial ruin, it continued long enough. Therefore, when the appetite and craving for drink becomes stronger than the will power to resist, the Neal Treatment should be taken. The Neal Treatment is the most successful drink habit treatment known because it thoroughly eliminates all alcohol from the system and neutralizes its functional effect upon the body tissues in three days, without the use of any painful, dangerous hypodermic injections. Fifty-three Neal Institutes in the principal cities of the United States, Canada and Australia are annually redeeming thousands of drink-wrecked men and women. The man who requires a few days' treatment to stimulate him sufficiently to enable him to transact business is mastered by alcohol and should go at once to the Los Angeles Neal Institute, take the Neal Treatment, three days and return to his home and business on the fourth day, perfect master of himself. Drinking men are always inclined to postpone taking treatment. This is a mistake, for delay means more stress and further loss of time, money and health.

If further information and references are desired call at the Los Angeles Neal Institute, 945 So. Olive St., or write to phone 31, U. S. Neal, New Broadway 4923-4972. — [Advertisement.]

a law partner of Champ Clark. In 1895 he was elected without opposition State Senator from the Eleventh Missouri District. He edited and compiled the revised statutes of Missouri for 1895.

Montana—Samuel U. Stewart, Democrat, was born in Ohio forty years ago, was educated in the University of Kansas and went to Montana fourteen years ago. He is a lawyer by profession and always has been active in Democratic politics. He is six feet two, blonde and exceedingly handsome. He assumed leadership of the Montana Democracy two years ago, when, as State chairman, he brought about the defeat of Senator Thomas H. Caffery.

Nebraska—John H. Morehead, Democrat, is at present State Senator from the First Senatorial District. He served as president of the State Senate and became acting Lieutenant-Governor after the death of the former incumbent. He is reputed to be the wealthiest man in Southeast Nebraska. He is a banker and a stock raiser, living at Falls City.

New Hampshire—Franklin Wentworth, Republican, was a candidate for Governor in 1908, but was defeated. He has sat in the Lower House and the Senate of his State. He has devoted most of his time to promoting railroads in New Hampshire, and for his services in this regard was elected president of the Brookline and Milford.

SULZER CHOSEN. New York—William Sulzer, Democrat, has been a candidate for the nomination for Governor on six previous occasions. He has served in Congress since 1892. From 1892 to 1894 he was a member of the New York Assembly, being speaker in 1892. He was born at Elizabeth, N. Y., in 1862, was educated at Columbia University and was admitted to the New York bar in 1884.

North Carolina—Locke Craig, Democrat, was one of three candidates for United States Senator before the Legislature in 1903. He was elected to the Assembly in 1908, having been corporate counsel of Asheville for a year. He was Presidential elector in 1892. He is regarded as one of the foremost speakers of the South.

North Dakota—Louis B. Hanna, Republican, entered Congress in 1909, having previously served in both Houses of the State Assembly. Hanna was born in Pittsburgh, but was one of the pioneer settlers of the Dakotas. He began as a lumber merchant, but later became a banker and purchased large land holdings.

OHIO'S SURPRISE. Ohio—James M. Cox, Democrat, entered Congress in 1909 and surprised the older members by making a speech fourteen days after he took his seat. Mr. Cox had formerly been in Washington as a newspaper man, however, and was not impressed by the surroundings. He was at one time private secretary to Congressman Paul J. Hays. Later he bought the Dayton News and later still the Springfield Press-Republican.

Rhode Island—Artemas J. Pothier, Republican, has been Governor of Rhode Island since 1909. Before that he served as lieutenant-governor and as city auditor and Mayor of Woonsocket. He has served in the State Assembly and was a commissioner to the Paris Exposition. He is engaged in the spinning industry.

South Carolina—Coleman L. Blease, Democrat, has been Governor since 1911. He was sent to the State Assembly in 1899 and was Speaker pro tem. In 1891-2. From 1904 to 1908 he was a member of the State Senate. Recently the Governor was charged with dereliction of duty in the receipt of stolen goods for pardoning a receiver of stolen goods.

South Dakota—Frank M. Byrne (Rep.) was born in Volney, Iowa, in 1858. He is proprietor of a hotel at Rapid City. The next year he took a home-stead, remaining until 1899, when he went to Faulkton, where he has resided since. Prior to that time he had been the first State Senator in 1890, County Treasurer of Faulk county four years, member of the Senate two terms, and was elected Lieutenant-Governor in 1910. Mr. Byrne is a farmer and dealer in real estate.

Tennessee—Benton McMillin (Dem.) was Governor of Tennessee from 1893 to 1903 and served continuously in Congress from 1879 to 1899, during a part of which time he was the leader of his party in the house. Mr. McMillin was at that time he had been living in Tennessee during his entire manhood.

Washington—Ernest Lister (Dem.) was appointed by Gov. Rogers a member of the State Board of Control of all State institutions and during the latter part of his six years

Does Your Diningroom Look Comfortable, Hospitable, Inviting?

—a place in which you are not ashamed to have your Thanksgiving guests gather!

What does YOUR dining-room say to guests? Go to its door NOW—try to read its silent speech! Does it look hospitable, comfortable, inviting? There is the desire in most every home at Thanksgiving time to make the dining-room as attractive as possible. A single piece of furniture, a complete suite, linens for the table, silverware, cut glass, or perhaps a fancy lamp, is all that is needed toward making it a place of true hospitality.

California for Wilson.

will get probably the largest majority that this county ever gave any candidate.

For the first time in many years the men in the Southern Pacific Railroad shops were not granted time off to vote, although they were allowed to do so at their own loss of time. This was taken as an indication that the railroad had no interest in the result.

CAPITAL BREAKS PRECEDENT. Sacramento will probably send a Democratic Senator to the Legislature for the first time in so long that memory runs not to the contrary.

The re-election of Baker, Democratic, in the second is certain. Meager returns from valley counties show Zumwalt, Democrat, running a close race with Kent, Progressive.

DEMOCRATIC JOY. A jubilant throng of men and women listened to the reading of telegrams at the rooms of the Democratic State Central Committee tonight. Usually on election night for many years an air of gloom has pervaded the headquarters of the Democracy, but this time there was an entirely different atmosphere in the place. The smiles and cheers that betokened a feeling of victory were in evidence.

J. O. Davis, chairman of the State Central Committee, passed out from the inner office the bulletins from various parts of California and the East that gave assurance that Wilson had won, and when they were read in the large assembly room the crowd applauded.

"We have carried California by at least 20,000," Chairman Davis said. "This is a very conservative estimate, and my own belief is that Wilson has beaten Roosevelt in the State by nearly 30,000. I am taking into account Registrar Zemansky's estimate that San Francisco has gone for Wilson by 15,000 and am also considering the fact that Wilson ran stronger in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys than we anticipated, while Roosevelt has a smaller lead than we expected in the southern part of the State."

"The advice from Los Angeles shows that Roosevelt has a smaller plurality there than we were willing to concede to him. We had supposed that Roosevelt would carry Santa Clara county by 1500 and now it seems that Wilson has carried it. We have got word that Wilson has carried San Jose by 600 to 800. In the strongest Republican precinct in San Jose, having a total vote of 300, Roosevelt had only seven more votes than Wilson. Dispatches from Sacramento and Fresno tell us that Wilson's vote in both places is beyond expectations."

Davis expressed his gratification with the result which he claimed in California. He said that Wilson's presumed victory meant that the Democrats would make heavy gains in the Legislature. He had only meager information as to the vote for Congressmen, but considered it probable that several Democrats had been elected to Congress.

The Democratic chairman recognized the fact that the Taft Republicans were defeated in their course. They were denied the right to vote for their candidate. Their party name and machine were stolen by another organization which put up its own independent ticket in other States, showing that it was separate from and antagonistic to the Republican party. The people of the State have shown their disapproval of the tactics practiced by that organization in California.

"The primary law, which permitted this theft of the Republican party name and machine, will have to be changed at the next session of the Legislature. The law will have to be amended so that no party may usurp the name of another party and usurp its place on the ballot. This will have to be done for the sake of fairness."

TAFT STRENGTH SWELLS WILSON VOTE. (BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]

Davis, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, made the following statement at 11 o'clock tonight concerning the contest in California:

"Wilson will carry this State by 20,000. Roosevelt will have Los Angeles by a margin not to exceed 1000 votes. We will carry San Francisco by 15,000 and will get a much larger vote in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys than we expected. The coast counties will be ours. Santa Clara and Monterey counties, which we did not claim and did not expect, will be in the Wilson column."

"Our success was contributed to by the fact that the Taft electors were disfranchised, but Wilson would have won on his own strength."

Oxnard. OXNARD, Nov. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With all precincts practically counted in this city and the county being rapidly totaled, Wilson looks like a winner in Ventura county. The vote cast here was light, being only about 55 per cent. of the total number of possible voters. Altogether 711 votes were cast. In the three small precincts of the city the totals stand as follows: Wilson, 154; Roosevelt, 146. For Congress—Hayes, 136; Holohan, 116. For Senator—B. F. Thomas, 24; Mott, 111. Assembly—Gabbert, 76; Sheppard, 111. For Supervisor—Roussey is conceded victorious. In Ventura about 1300 votes were cast. With about 400 counted Roosevelt gets 219 and Wilson 191. In Camarillo Wilson gets 48 and Roosevelt, 35. In Hueneme Roosevelt gets 90 and Wilson 54.

Long Beach. LONG BEACH (Cal.) Nov. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Incomplete returns from twenty-three of the thirty-five precincts give Wilson 1030; Roosevelt, 1565; Chaffin, 76; Debs, 62. For Judges—McCormick, Rives, Horton, Summerfield and York are leading.

San Bernardino. SAN BERNARDINO (Cal.) Nov. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Six precincts complete in the county give Roosevelt 162; Wilson, 114; Debs, 28. For Congress—Kettner, 45; Evans, 122. Johnson (Rep.) is elected Assemblyman in the Fifty-seventh District. The county charter is snowed under by a heavy vote.

Santa Barbara. SANTA BARBARA (Cal.) Nov. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two precincts complete give Wilson, 77; Roosevelt, 57. The race track

Hair Health

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Take Advantage of This Offer.

We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if we were not certain that it would do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

Therefore, when we assure you that if your hair is beginning to unaturally fall out or if you have any scalp trouble, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness, you may rest assured that we know what we are talking about. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is vastly different from other similar preparations. We believe that it will do more than any other human agency toward restoring hair growth and hair health. It is not greasy and will not gum the scalp or hair or cause permanent stain. It is as pleasant to use as pure cold water.

Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded without question or quibble if it does not do as we claim. Certainly we can offer no stronger argument. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain it only at our stores—The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle and Spokane.—(Advertisement.)

Alma Mater. WILSON SINGS "OLD NASSAU."

PRINCETON STUDENTS CAMP AT VICTOR'S DOORS.

President-Elect Predicts that One Man and One Session of Congress Will Not Solve Problems Confronting Nation, but that It Will Take Generations to Come.

(By Federal Wireline Line to The Times.) PRINCETON (N. J.) Nov. 5.—[Special Dispatch.] At 11:30 p.m. Princeton College moved from Alexander Hall, where it had been watching the returns, and camped at the door of the next President. Gov. Wilson gave the college men an outline of the task before him and the country. "I have tonight no feeling of triumph," he said, "I realize a grave task which lies ahead of me and the nation. We must all have the best temper, the quietest mind, but the most resolute purpose. This is a time when all thoughtful men in America must stretch their powers to the utmost to do those things which must be done. I feel sometimes that this is just the beginning. You will see the end. The course of our programme must be so prudent that it will take two generations to finish it. The lesson of this election is a lesson of responsibility. I sincerely believe that a great cause has triumphed. One man cannot solve our problems nor a single session of Congress. The people of this country know what they want and can get it, but it must be obtained by long processes in which the generations to come will play so large a part. I summon you through to the rest of your lives to support men who look ahead to the final solution of our problems."

When the cheer had died away Gov. Wilson stood with bowed head and joined in singing "Old Nassau." Princeton was satisfied. If it could not win the football championship it had at least elected a President.

At midnight Gov. Wilson received a message of congratulation from President-Hibben of Princeton. It was as follows:

"In the name of Princeton University, I extend to you the congratulations and the best wishes of your alma mater upon your election to the Presidency of the United States."

THE SUN'S ESTIMATE. NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 5.—[Special Dispatch.] The Sun stands on its earlier estimate of the electoral college—Wilson, 269; Taft, 150, and Roosevelt, 52.

San Diego County. SAN DIEGO (Cal.) Nov. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fifty-one of 147 precincts in San Diego city and county at 10:30 o'clock tonight give Wilson 2432; Roosevelt 1933; Taft 18; For Congress, William Kettner (Dem.) 2162; Evans (Prog.) 1088; For Superior Judge, Albert Schoonover (Dem.) 2122; W. A. Sloan (Prog.) 2167. Both Republican candidates for Assembly are elected. The county is conceded to Wilson.

NEW YORK WORLD ON WILSON'S VICTORY. (By Federal Wireline Line to The Times.) NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 5.—[Special Dispatch.] The New York World's lead says: Wilson carried more than thirty-five States, with several others in doubt which may give him forty or more. The meager returns indicate both a popular and electoral majority for the Democratic candidate in the country at large.

The returns at 11:30 p.m. indicate that Gov. Wilson has carried these sixteen States that were carried by Bryan in 1908, with a total of 145 electoral votes: Alabama, 12; Kentucky, 12; Nebraska, 3; South Carolina, 9; Arkansas, 9; Louisiana, 10; Nevada, 3; Tennessee, 12; Florida, 6; Maryland, 8; North Carolina, 12; Texas, 20; Georgia, 14; Mississippi, 10; Oklahoma, 10; Virginia, 12.

Gov. Wilson has also carried the sixteen States that were carried by Taft in 1908, with a total of 146 electoral votes: Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Iowa, 12; Indiana, 15; Maine, 6; Massachusetts, 12; Montana, 4; New Jersey, 14; New York, 45; Ohio, 24; Rhode Island, 5; South Dakota, 5; West Virginia, 8; Wisconsin, 13; Arizona, 3; and New Mexico, 2.

These thirty-two States will give Wilson 344 votes out of 531. In the electoral college, or eighty-eight more than the majority of 266 which is necessary to elect.

Congress will be heavily Democratic, as indicated in returns up to midnight.

Fontana Orange Groves at $500 Per Acre in Active Demand

A Few Facts and Statistics About the Most Attractive Fruit Industry in the World

The citrus industry of California supports 150,000 people directly and indirectly. It employs 25,000 people in the groves and packing-houses. The groves are owned by from 12,000 to 15,000 men. This is according to H. V. Brummel, in the Pacific Fruit World.

The industry brings from $25,000,000 to $35,000,000 to the State and from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 to the transportation companies.

The 1912-13 crop of California citrus fruits will total 55,000 carloads and will be worth $57,000,000, according to railroad officials, who have had their experts make a careful estimate, in all producing districts.

Mr. G. Harold Powell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, who has recently returned from a two-month's trip in the East, says that New York City will take 5000 carloads, and Boston 4000.

Mr. R. M. Teague, proprietor of the famous San Dimas citrus nurseries has just purchased seven and a half acres of Valencia and navel oranges for $24,000—this grove has been paying about 15% net on a valuation of $24,000.

When some of the oldest growers are willing to pay as high as $3000 an acre for additional groves, the most conservative investor on earth should have no hesitancy in investing $500 per acre in a young Fontana grove—with six full years to meet his payments.

The demand for Fontana groves has been exceptionally active during the past thirty days. Choice young groves can be purchased at from $500 to $600 an acre, according to location and age. A share of gravity water stock is included with every acre sold. Complete information may be obtained at the office of the Fontana Company, owners and developers, Thomas D. Campbell & Co., exclusive selling agents, 828 South Hill street, Los Angeles.

Crisp Appetizing Saratoga Chips

Made With Cottolene

Saratoga Chips made with Cottolene are never greasy, as are those made with lard. The reason for this is that Cottolene heats to about 100 degrees higher than either butter or lard, without burning, quickly forming a crisp coating which excludes the fat. Your Chips, therefore, are crisp, dry and appetizing.

Cottolene costs about the price of lard, and will go one-third farther than either butter or lard.

ALL IS GLOOM AROUND THERE.

LEASER AND STIMSON RETIRE TO PRIVATE ROOM.

Headquarters of "Progressive" Refuse to Be Comforted by Their Claims Despite the Success of Their Plan—Figuring They Have Won.

There was thick gloom at the "Progressive" headquarters in the Times building last night. Myer Leaser, National Chairman, and Russ Avery, state chairman, were there, shut in their private room, far from the shouting and cheering outside. Quiet pervaded the place. As the early returns came in, each "Progressive" viewed the bulletin board with a look of gloom and said, "Well, we've carried California by a big majority anyway." Leaser absolutely refused to be interviewed and shut himself in a private room with Stimson. The two figures valiantly stood against the gloom, but came out for several hours. Stimson came out for the first time with figures of the results in California calculated to show the faithful shouting about 25,000 for Roosevelt.

The returns were very slow in coming and it was not until nearly 10 o'clock that anything like definite figures on the California situation were received. In the room where the public was supposed to crowd to read the bulletin there were not more than a dozen persons at any time during the evening. The women, of whom a large number were present, had a hard time of it in which to read the bulletin, and every return from a precinct showing a vote for Roosevelt was greeted with disappointed feminine cheers, and every vote for Wilson with a chorus of "That's the lead. After we worked so hard for it."

Stimson and Avery admitted that the evening that there were no more returns to be made, they had refused to commit themselves to the State situation, and they had refused to make any statement to the effect that their previous forecasts for Los Angeles county would be fulfilled. As the gloom grew on, Leaser came out to his room and showed himself to the "Progressives," but presented a long, lowing countenance. Stimson, who was not illative, was no more cheerful, and the only one who had a smile was Avery. Leaser refused to give statements to the press, but at 11:30 when the showing indicated that Roosevelt would carry the State by a vote of 100,000, he sent out a statement saying that he believed that they had practically won the State for Roosevelt.

But the victorious local candidate, who had been during the evening with many instances and tried to cheer up his friends, but did little to lift the gloom. A number of the men also arrived and looked out through the corridors with a look of gloom. The women were barred from the corridors and were forced to remain in the room. The atmosphere was a gloomy one. Instead of the usual cheering and shouting, there was a lowing sound. At 11:30, the "Progressive" vote in Roosevelt's majority in the State, steadily dwindling from 25,000 to 15,000, and still lower, gradually came in. At 11:30, the "Progressive" vote in Roosevelt's majority in the State, steadily dwindling from 25,000 to 15,000, and still lower, gradually came in. ## "CONCHITA" GROWS ON ONE WHEN REPEATED.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

THE DESIRE to learn the latest election returns may have had an influence on the number of spectators at last night's production of "Conchita."

And yet the merely curious would have found it more satisfactory to join the extraordinary crowds that filled every playhouse, where the shows were lighter in character. Most of the audience that gathered at the Auditorium to hear "Conchita" for the third time was composed of connoisseurs who had heard it before.

This is the peculiarity of Zandonai's masterpiece, that, like good wine, it improves with age. The first appearance of Tarquinia Tarquini was for many the satisfaction of seeing her and hearing her sing. The symphonic orchestration, exquisitely complicated, interested only a few. The unusual importance given to the two principal roles, at practically the exclusion of all others, surprised and disappointed.

The production last night proved to be a revelation to even the best prepared. "Conchita," musically considered, remains a symphony, but Zandonai seemed to bring out new charm from the score, now that his orchestra has long and laboriously rehearsed that most difficult of operas.

Tarquinia was a different woman, too, last night. She seemed to have lost entirely much of her angularity of motion, rigidity of pose, probably due to the effect of a first appearance before a critical audience. At any rate, she displayed a much finer and finished action, delicacy of interpretation than in the two former productions of "Conchita."

Armanini, as Gateo, easily divided the honors with her. Orchestra, principals and chorus combined in giving an unusual presentation of "Conchita," thoroughly satisfactory to the most fastidious taste. This afternoon will see the production of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci," the double bill with two distinct casts; one of the real treats of this season of grand opera.

Matini and D'Orta, the sympathetic sopranos, will appear with Agostini and Armanini, tenors; Giardini and Giacomini, baritones, and Zandonai will relinquish the baton in favor of his able assistant, Colucci, in the second part. In the evening Carmen will make her first appearance. Since Tarquinia sang herself into the favor of the Covent Garden last spring through her remarkable impersonation of the title role, a fine cast is assured with D'Orta as Micaela, Giacomini as Escamillo and Giorgi as Don Jose.

Save Over a Third on Player Pianos

Unusual Opportunity for Underpriced Buying in the Grand Annual Exhibition and Sale of Player Pianos at Eilers Music House—Terms as Low as $2.00 Weekly.

No stronger evidence of the great superiority of these newest Player Pianos now on display for the first time can be found than in the fact that last week no less than seven of the one-time wonderful Pianola Pianos were turned in toward payment of the truly magnificent Kimball Acme, and the superb Eilers de Luxe Player Pianos. And two more Pianola Pianos were traded in on Monday.

The Grand Annual Exhibition at Eilers is noteworthy, not merely on account of its magnitude and scope, but particularly because we are exhibiting for the first time truly perfect Player Pianos. Those who have been awaiting the time when Player Pianos would reach the highest pinnacle of artistic perfection should not let another day go by without investigating these very latest types of Player Pianos now on display for the first time.

The rendering of selections—no artistic and so perfectly human as to make it absolutely impossible to detect it from the most perfect hand playing (results which have been impossible heretofore)—can be produced by a novice with the latest types of Player Pianos now on display at Eilers.

No one can appreciate the rapid and truly wonderful progress in modern Player Piano making without seeing this Exhibition. See the latest achievement—the most artistic Acme Player Piano, the product of the great Kimball Company, as well as nearly a score of other choicest and highly desirable makes—all here on initial display.

In addition, there is also on exhibition for the first time the Flexitone Player Piano de Luxe, positively the last word in Player Piano construction.

A THIRD AND MORE OFF. All the remaining Pianola Pianos which we have received in part payment will be sold at a fraction of their original cost. Among them are four of the latest styles, which we'll guarantee cannot be told from new. Take your choice at reductions of from 25 to 50 per cent in 48 per cent. Those which sold at $200, $450 and $750 are offered now for $285, $425 and $445. In addition we will include a large library of music free.

SOME AS LOW AS $275. In this Exhibition every taste and every demand, both as to price and quality, can be met completely. From the dainty little Baby Boudoir Player Pianos at $275 and $285, prices range up gradually to the most costly $1000 and $1150 styles, which are obtainable at Eilers for $775 and $850.

Convenient terms of payment can be arranged. Pay one-tenth down and the balance within two years. Or, if you prefer to pay some other way, we will agree to any reasonable proposition that is necessary to meet your individual requirements. A cordial invitation is extended to all those who enjoy music and lovers of the beautiful. Receive daily, Eilers Music House, the Nation's Largest Dealers, 344 So. Broadway. The Great, Cheerful Crowd Watching The Times Bulletins Last Night.

First street and Broadway were packed for hours by the throngs attracted by the quick-as-lightning service. Returns from hundreds of places were flashed on the screen as rapidly as they could be read.

And See Plenty.

Chairman Cotton.

THOUSANDS ON STREET FOR "TIMES" BULLETINS.

THE throng of men and women packed around The Times Building last night was greater than ever before after the most exciting elections, and enthusiasm was at high tide every moment. First street was filled with a dense crowd between Spring and Broadway. Broadway, both north and south of First, on the east side of the street, from which the bulletins were visible on the big screen hung on the Tajo building, was a mass of humanity from the car tracks to the walls of the block. Thousands were there all the time. A strikingly noticeable thing was the many women in the crowd, and they were fully as enthusiastic as the men, greeting many of the bulletins with cheers. It was very amusing to see some of them endeavor to applaud the returns that pleased them by clapping their gloved hands. The famous Times Siren performed efficient service in keeping people in the outlying sections of the city informed as the results were bulletined.

It was a happy crowd. While many of them did not like the steady flow of Wilson scores, they were so pleased with the deserved punishment of the Bull Moose that they laughed and cheered with the Democrats. When timely hits were made at "Holy Hiram" and other members of the seafish gang, cheers and laughter reached their highest pitch. The crowd remained as long as bulletins were forthcoming and seemed loath to leave, even at a very late hour. There was a scene of the same character at the branch office of The Times, Nos. 419 and 423 South Spring street, where the bulletins were thrown on a screen simultaneously with those at the Times Building. The crowd was so great that it was with difficulty the street was kept clear for traffic. The Times not only gave the unequaled bulletin service which proved so interesting to many thousands of persons in the city, but supplied the returns to seventeen cities and towns throughout the country, drawing immense and satisfied crowds everywhere.

CLAIMS CALIFORNIA FOR THE DEMOCRACY.

JUST before midnight, H. H. Cotton, chairman of the Los Angeles Democratic County Central Committee, made the following statement: "Wilson and Marshall have carried the country by such overwhelming figures that the result cannot be disputed. Democracy won in a righteous fight. The masses, tired of Taft inactivity and clearly showed that they would not stand for Roosevelt's third-term cry. The figures show that Gov. Wilson has won in the electoral college and I predict that when the final count shall have been made it will show that Wilson has received a popular vote equal to that of all the other candidates combined."

"In the State of California Wilson has surely won. I base this on the figures received at midnight from San Francisco. I am told that Wilson is coming down to the Tehachapi with more than 28,000 plurality and I am satisfied that Roosevelt will not go up to the line with more than 10,000 to the good. That will give Wilson a plurality in California of something like 20,000. I predicted as early as ten days ago that Wilson would carry the State by 28,000, and my estimate still holds good. Until the returns in the city and county are complete, I do not care to discuss local results, but I feel that we have lost the city and county probably not more than 5000."

"Nationally, it was a well-earned victory. The clean record of Woodrow Wilson both as a man and a politician won him from the start the confidence of all classes of voters. President Taft has failed to make good as President and Theodore Roosevelt, with his third party, ran party leaders in attempting to steal the political trickery of Bull Moose party leaders in attempting to steal the Republican organization of the State of California, to which they had no more right than the highwayman to his victim's purse, resulted in the landslide which from wire reports at this hour indicate has occurred for Wilson."

"The Democratic party locally and in the nation fought a clean fight in the interest of the cause of the people, and that it was a fight for right, as shown by the verdict of the people."

In Precinct 346.

One of the causes of the heavy vote there. Miss Cora M. Bonham, election clerk.

Old Time Scotch Carousing. [London Chronicle:] The etiquette of drinking as understood by the serving man in certain Highland households in former days was sometimes outraged by abstemious guests. At Castle Grant when a carousing party was on two Highlanders were always in attendance after midnight to carry guests upstairs, declining the proffered assistance, the attendants, astonished and indignant, exclaimed: "Ach, its sair changed time at Castle Grant when gentlemen can gang to bed on their ain feet."

LONDON'S DEADLY STREETS.

The Number of Fatal Accidents Is Engaging Serious Attention Because of Its Rapid Increase.

[Consular Reports:] The growing danger to those using the streets of London owing to the change in the character of the traffic and the increased congestion, is engaging serious attention. In 1911 the number of people killed by vehicles in the streets was 410. The total in 1905 was 172; in 1906, 212; in 1907, 292; in 1908, 344; in 1909, 266, and in 1910, 302. The fatalities in 1911 were due to the following causes: Horse omnibuses, 2; horse trams, 1; horse carts, etc., 120; motor omnibuses, 167; electric trams, 25; motor cars, etc., 124; 135. In addition to fatal accidents, 13,184 persons were injured; 126 of the accidents were due to horse omnibuses; 44 to horse trams; 224 to horse carts, etc.; 1947 to motor omnibuses; 2230 to electric trams; and 1461 to motor cars, etc.

As recently as nine years ago there were only thirteen motor omnibuses running in London; now there are more than 2000 and the number is being increased at the rate of about thirty each week. One company alone expects to have over 4000 such vehicles running as soon as they can be produced and licensed. Nearly 70,000 motor vehicles of all descriptions have been licensed in the London County Council. The increase in the number of electric trams has been equally significant; there were 878 such cars in 1905, as against over 1500 at present, and there are 250 in the course of construction.

The total number of persons killed in the streets of London in consequence of the traffic during the seven years from 1905 to 1911 amounted to 2041, and of these deaths 259 were caused by motor omnibuses, 211 by motor cars, cars or wagons and 153 by trams, while during the same period 154,311 persons were injured. In the five years from 1905 to 1909, 650 of the deaths occurred to children, 213 of whom were under 7 years of age. During the last eight years over 1000 horse-driven hansom cabs and 1500 four-wheeled cabs have been removed from service in addition to 2000 horse omnibuses and over 1000 horse trams.

Various suggestions have been made with a view to reducing the number of accidents. At certain large open spaces where several converging lines of traffic meet, it is urged that there should be underground subway for pedestrians to enable them to cross to any one of the corners of the radiating thoroughfares. Such subways already exist, two of which are in the city proper, and it is proposed that others should be constructed at the chief points where the traffic is particularly heavy. Comparatively few people, however, make use of these subways owing to the loss of time and probably also to the exertion of descending and ascending the flights of stairs. Were the approaches made wider and on gentle gradients and inclines they would no doubt be used to a greater extent.

A SHEPHERD SWINDLER.

A German sells bogus War Plans and Mobilization Information to France and Russia.

[Deutsche Mittags Zeitung:] A message from Berlin publishes the details of an extraordinary "spy" swindle by which several European governments have been imposed upon.

A certain Glitch bought a few German military handbooks, ordinance maps and time tables relating to the German provinces near the French frontier and succeeded with their aid in concocting a "mobilization plan" of the German army, to be used in the event of war breaking out with France.

He added elaborate notes and invented a secret cipher.

Glitch dispatched his forgeries to the general staff of the French army, dating them from Berlin. He said he must have documents back in forty-eight hours. In due course the plans came back with 150 and a request for more. Then Glitch forged similar documents for the use of Russia, and these were returned to him with 1500.

As the officials of the two general staffs asked for still more documents, Glitch worked out a secret plan of a German mobilization against Russia, France and England. In this plan it was stated that Austria would send an army to the Russian frontier, and that the German Emperor would take command of the whole fleet in order to defeat the British fleet. Glitch himself handed this document to three French officers in Berlin, who gave him 11000. He sent a similar document to Russia and England.

WINDSOR SQUARE THE RESIDENTIAL MASTERPIECE

In the planning of Windsor Square men of high ideals have traveled the length and breadth of this country and Europe for ideas which would be worthy the magnificent setting this residential masterpiece enjoys. Drive out and see what is being done—see the street work while it is being built, the pavements, smooth as glass, that will be as good ten years from now as they are today, and that will never need to be torn up.

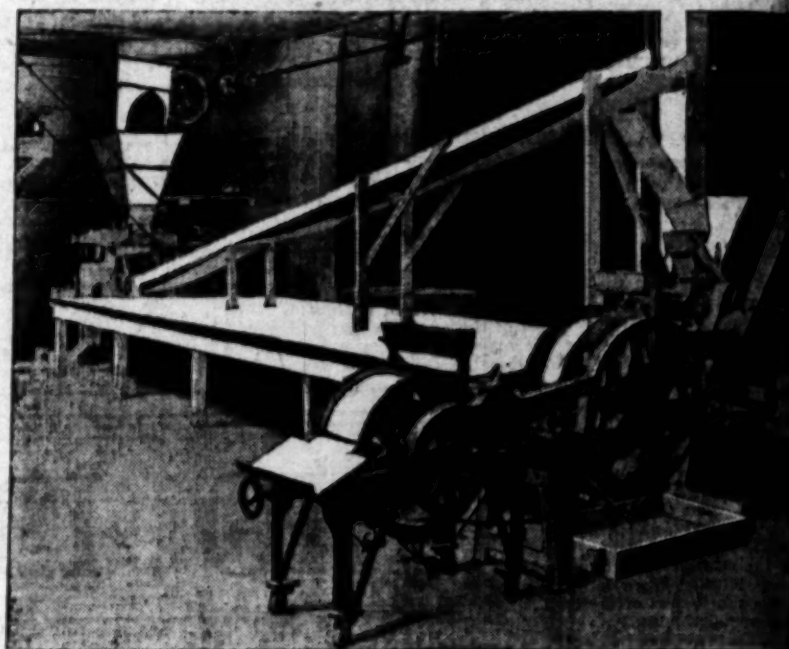

A 15-minute drive from downtown—out Wilshire Boulevard—through the city's most aristocratic community.

We believe that property in Windsor Square offers the best opportunity for investment of any residence section in Los Angeles.

Frontage prices are practically the same as in communities that can never possess Windsor Square character.

Kneading, Cutting, Weighing Machine

A wonderful piece of machinery in the Bradford Bakery.

The dough comes down the chute into the large container. Here it is weighed and cut more accurately than hands could ever do it. Then it passes along the belt to the machine in the foreground where it is moulded—all without hands touching it. After raising sufficiently it goes to the ovens.

This gives an idea of the modern methods used in the Bradford Bakery—no hands touch the bread from start to finish—Bradford's methods are sanitary.

If you want a cheap loaf of bread—don't buy Bradford's. A "cut price" loaf means either short weight or poor materials. Every loaf of Bradford's Bread is made of high quality materials—a better quality of flour than is used in many homes. Every loaf is weighed by machinery—never a short weight loaf. When price lowers—quality or weight deteriorates—the price of Bradford's bread is never cut.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: The eyebrows should add greatly to the expression of the face and if properly trained they will do so. They should be brushed carefully into line and any stray hairs should be eliminated. A little vaseline will sometimes promote the growth of the eyebrows, and there is a harmless salve which adds to their thickness.

"Show her the Pope's ring," said the girl in the interesting shop, as we connoered over the treasures there.

"The Pope's ring?" did not that sound interesting?

"It is not really a ring worn by the Pope," said the lady who gathers treasures, "but it is made in the shape of the ring worn by the Pope, and the stones are almandines and they did come from Rome and they were blessed by the Pope and there is still more to the story. By that time, you may imagine that I was sufficiently interested to listen to more.

The Lady of the Treasures makes jewelry of odd and original designs, and, in fact, is a genius at this work, as you can easily see, if you even glance at her case of cases. But about the Pope's ring? It seems that a lady visiting California brought with her a piece of lapis lazuli, which is one of the special treasure stones of the Vatican and which she had secured in Rome and had blessed by the Pope, and she had her set the olivine and the lapis in the form of two crosses, one for each side of a Bible, imbedding them so that they were flush with the surface of the sacred book. It must have been a nice piece of work when it was completed, the Treasure Lady secured at a price the remaining pieces of olivine and this is what is used in the Pope's ring. It is a ring of silver, that metal being the metal of the Vatican, and it is made in the accepted form of the ring worn by the Pope, and it is the only oddly interesting ring in that interesting place. There is a ring containing a minute miniature of the Resurrection. The miniature is set beneath glass and uniquely framed. Then there is a miniature of the Madonna, also in a ring, and a necklace which is composed of rubies treated in a way known to but one man on earth and he a man of over 80 years of age. He vows that his process shall perish with him. One could spend days in that alluring shop, looking at the beautiful articles and listening to the lore of the Treasure Lady. She knows the occult meanings of gems and can tell you whether or not you should wear this or that, and what metals will bring you the best of success in your career. It may be that your birthstone should not be yours at all, and if not she will possibly tell you why not. And she will make you, with her own talented hands, the most wonderful creations in jewelry—creations which will bring out all the poetry of the gems employed.

Thanksgiving Extraordinary.

If I were asked to think up a Thanksgiving dinner out of the usual I think I would make it in California, something out of doors, or else I would serve it in a place at the beach or the mountainside.

I believe, if I owned a place in the mountains, I would select that, as somehow you always think of that festival as a country festival. I would have a set of dining-room furniture of that charming redcraft. I saw a set in that shop where such articles are made to order and I am sure that set would make Thanksgiving fare more appetizing. It consisted of a large table with a glass top, a sideboard of the red, a serving table, dining chairs of graceful shape and a tea wagon of red, with red wheels and a red and glass tray. There was also one of those adorable tall jardiniere of red and one or two other articles which completed the room. Just imagine a Thanksgiving dinner served upon that table with those surroundings and with the glorious country all about you! A dinner for four, please, with all the eatables which make Thanksgiving a happy feast.

Big Hearts.

The girl who makes her own gifts will take head of that Broadway window which is filled with pretty things makeable at home. Of course, if she is honest she will admit that she has at least one of the articles by which to steal the pattern. There is that huge set of hearts. They are of satin, cut into flat heart-shaped pillows and caught together at the points, and filled, of course, with a fine sachet. To place between the sheets or the laid-away best blouse are these pretty trifles. If the girl is left with brushes she may paint something dainty in flowers upon the satin surface. If she uses the needle well she may trace a design or lettering in thread upon the placid surface of the hearts.

"Sweets to Sweet."

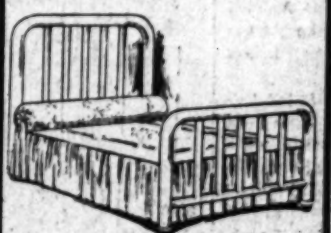

"Aren't those sweet?" exclaimed a girl who affectionately upon the arm of a boy, and she insisted upon going almost upon her knees and drawing him after her as she gazed at the pretty things in one of the Broadway windows. "Just see those cardboard bottles of—of, why, it's roses!" "Yes, and those are hand boxes of rose leaves," responded he, quite as enthusiastically. They were bride and groom, you could see as plainly as though there had been roses in their hair; and also they had come from some other city and they just didn't care who knew that they were

As Inexpensive.

I chanced to be in one of the most luxurious of the Broadway shops recently when a lady came in to look about and to admire the beauty of the place. "I do not wish to buy," said she frankly as she entered, and she was, I observed, made quite as welcome as though she had intended filling a long list of wants. "Why?" she exclaimed as she looked at a blouse upon a figure, "is that the price of that blouse?" "Yes, madame," replied a saleswoman. "I am aston-

Mirrored by Fashion.

All white mourning seems to have come to stay.

White fox is a strong rival to the favorite ermine.

Fans are more in demand than for a long while.

Among veils, leading colors are biscuit and cream.

Some of the new laces have jeweled medallions set in.

There seems to be no end to the rage for corduroy skirts.

Now and then leg-o-mutton sleeves are seen in coats.

Tiny rhinestone buckles are worn on satin evening slippers.

White lace blouses are back again, and they give good service.

The new low types of Robespierre collars are special favorites.

BELL'S SEASONING

Used by your Grandmother and every Generation since to deliciously flavor Dressings for Turkey, Chicken, Game, Meats, Fish.

DELICIOUS PREPARED BEEF. Take a pound out of this beef, wash thoroughly, cut in small pieces, place in kettle, half cover with cold water, and cook slowly for 8 hours. Remove fat, gristle and bone. Chop fine, add seven teaspoons of Bell's Seasoning, heating teaspoon salt, and enough of the liquid to moisten; well. Place in deep-dish with heavy weight on it and cool. An onion cooked with the meat will add to the flavor.

DELICIOUS HOME MADE SAUSAGE. To each pound of fresh lean pork, add 1 level tablespoon of Bell's Poultry Seasoning and 1/4 even teaspoon salt. Sprinkle over the meat, cut fine, thoroughly mix to a stiff dough, then make into cakes and fry. P. H. CRANE, Dining Car Mgr., N.Y., N.M. & R.R., writes: "I have used Bell's Seasoning in our Dining Cars for a long time with good results."

REMEMBER, 10c. can Bell's Poultry Seasoning is sufficient to flavor the dressing of 100 pounds meat or poultry, or the 25c. can, 200 pounds.

STATE LIFE INSURANCE.

Wisconsin by virtue of a law passed by the last State Legislature has gone into the life insurance business. The plan provides that any citizen of that State between 20 and 50 years living a normal, healthy life may take out a policy after passing a medical examination under the supervision of the Board of Health. The very large profits made by the life insurance companies arise from the fact that, while the life insurance charges are based upon the average duration of human life of all people sick and well, the insurance companies insure only healthy lives.

NO STRUTTERS.

Did anybody notice that during the political campaign now happily ended there were no torchlight processions, no marching of fancifully-attired and gorgeously-capped clubs of children of a large growth, and but few bands playing "Hail to the Chief" at street meetings when Col. Strutter, the spellbinder, advanced to the front of the platform, with his left hand in the breast of his coat and his right hand upraised to the stars and exclaimed, "Muffeloff countrymen!" "Manners with fortunes, humours turn with climes, Tenets with books, and principles with times."

THE SINGLE TAX.

The single tax was an issue yesterday in California, Oregon and Missouri. The vote on this issue will not be ascertained and reported for some days. In Missouri the views of Henry George on this subject were at one time quite popular. But the speeches of Emil Seidel, the Socialist candidate for the Vice-Presidency, have caused a reversal of public opinion in the State of "show me." He said: "We will take all the farming land in the country and place it under the control of the government. We will either confiscate all the land or we will tax it to its full value and thus force every land owner to turn his acres over to the State."

HARD DODGING.

Between hypnotism and the Bertillon system of measurement and thumb impressions and, finally, the dictograph, it is becoming very difficult for a criminal to escape detection. At Newcastle, Wyo., Jim Murdoch and Tony Aspoli were suspected of the murder of John Glachene. The circumstantial evidence against them, although strong, was insufficient to procure a conviction. They were confined, pending the trial, in a cell, in the wall of which a dictograph was placed communicating with an adjoining cell in which a stenographic reporter was stationed. They discussed the details of the crime they had committed. The report of their conversation was admitted in evidence and they were convicted and sentenced to be hanged.

NATIONAL HUNGER STRIKE.

Of all the fantastic methods for advancing a cause, that of Miss Gathorpe for boosting female suffrage in England surely gets away with the pennant. She has seriously proposed that every suffragette in the British Isles should go on a "hunger strike"—that is, refuse to take any nourishment until women are given the right to vote.

This supremely illogical proposition suggests the question, Why on earth should women, because they consider that they are already suffering an injustice, condemn themselves to the further injustice of physical suffering? Suffering doesn't necessarily lead to the suffrage because they sound silly. A more effective plan of campaign would be to make the male sex suffer for a hunger strike by cutting off all communication with them, thus making them hunger for sweet feminine society. This would strike home and enforce a moral. Miss Gathorpe and those like her only spread the fallacious idea that women are not blessed with a sense of humor.

DEFERRED TO PREJUDICE.

A San Francisco journal which "does not wish to be understood as approving of the entire career of Andrew Carnegie" and which "by no means subscribes to the tariff by which it became possible for Mr. Carnegie to acquire numerous library funds" is still willing that the Bay City shall accept the $750,000 which the Laird of Skibo tenders it for library purposes.

This is, don't know, quite too awfully good on the part of the journal in question. It is refreshing in these days of hot political contests and ravenous reachings after the illimitable unattainable to behold a San Francisco journalist arise superior to his own prejudices and climb upon his dead self to the altitude of being willing to take benefits obtained by donations of what he believes to be tainted money.

A moral climbing must not be attributed to a mere selfish desire for a share in the thing donated. It is largely the fruit of the conviction that the giving of $750,000 will benefit the latter end of Andrew Carnegie, even more than it will promote the intellectual and moral development of San Francisco.

We have ever been of the opinion that the woman who can make a good pumpkin pie deserves well of the gods.

GOV. WILSON, GO UP!

It is a source of deep regret to The Times and to all loyal Republicans that the great statesman, jurist and patriot, William Howard Taft, has been defeated for the Presidency.

The country owes this unfortunate result to the reckless, selfish ambition of Theodore Roosevelt, which led him to bring this shame and disaster upon the Republican party, which in former years trusted and honored him beyond his deserts.

The party will survive this defeat. It will come again into its own, for it is founded upon principles that can never be permanently overthrown so long as human hearts pulsate for freedom and justice.

The result, deplorable as it is, is yet better for the country than would have been such a victory over common sense, common honesty and common decency as the election of Roosevelt and Johnson would have been.

That hundreds of thousands of Republicans voted for Gov. Wilson as the most effective way of defeating Roosevelt does not permanently or actually impair their Republicanism. The Savior of mankind was a man of peace and love. But even he felt compelled to take a scourge and with it drive the money-changers from the Temple.

The Times will discuss later the effect of Gov. Wilson's election upon public legislation and other measures of public policy that may ensue. Whatever criticism may be made upon his political views and his career it may truthfully be said of President-elect Wilson that he may be trusted to place no such ravaging hands upon the Constitution of the fathers as Roosevelt would have been certain to do.

NEEDS OF THE FARM.

Prominent among the needs of the farm is a parcels post (declared for first by the Republican party) which means the extension of rural commerce, the upbuilding of the farm, the advancement of agriculture, and additional prosperity to the United States, because, through the prosperity of the farm, our towns and cities will grow, the merchants will have more business, wage-earners will have cheaper food, and all our people will reap untold benefits. The prosperity of one is the prosperity of all.

The isolation of the farm must be overcome. It must have improved facilities for communication with the outside world. The social life of the farm must be brought in touch with the pulse beat of society in our towns and cities. The farm and city must be brought closer together. Our postal service must be extended, improved and perfected. The telephone must go into every farm home. The great telegraph systems must be made to articulate with rural telephones. Distance between the farm and the city must be annihilated (the automobile is a long step in that direction), and the farmers must be given the same facilities of communication with the great commercial and industrial world that are enjoyed by the dwellers in our towns and cities.

The farm must have better educational facilities. The country must have better schools. The boys and girls in the country must have enlarged educational advantages. They must be placed upon an equal footing with the boys and girls in the towns and cities. Inferior educational advantages is one of the drawbacks to country life. The absence of graded district schools contributes to the depopulation of our farms. Farmers are constantly deserting the farm to find better schools elsewhere.

In the United States today we have 17,813,852 boys and girls of school age. But in all our normal schools, colleges and universities there are but 208,146 students. Only 0.017 of our young people ever enter our higher institutions of learning.

We have over 40,000 rural mail carriers, making daily trips through the rural districts. This service must be extended until the daily mail reaches practically every one of our 4,400,000 farm homes. The rural mail service must be made an instrument for the extension of our rural commerce. Our rural mail carriers must be utilized to develop trade, transportation, business, commerce, communication, intercourse and travel between the city and the country.

A larger service at proper rates in the rural districts must be exacted of those public service contractors the great express companies. These companies must be made to serve in a much larger way the needs of the 4,400,000 farms in the United States.

All the needs of the farm must be met to insure a continuance of present prosperity.

DEVELOPMENT OF PHILIPPINES.

Anybody who wants to "give up" the Philippines will do well to keep away from Manila if he wishes to be treated with politeness. The Filipinos are no more in favor of independence of the United States than southern colored men are in favor of a return to slavery. Aguilander is a ranch some years ago and nobody seems to know whether he is living or dead. The subject of independence is no longer discussed in the islands.

Prosperity is growing there. The foreign trade last year amounted to $100,000,000. During the past ten years the use of cotton manufactured goods—according to Judge Elliott, who is Secretary of Commerce and Police in the Philippine Cabinet—has increased 800 per cent., the use of shoes 600 per cent., and the use of illuminating oils 500 per cent. Ten years ago the women of the islands did not have the means or the taste for dress, but now they have both, and the greater part of the growth in cotton importations has been on their account. The greater use of illuminating oils means that the people are abandoning the primitive coconut oil lamp, while the greater use of shoes means that the habit of going barefooted is being abandoned.

No longer do our lemon-colored fellow-citizens in Luzon go breechless and with unshod pedicels and unashamed fronts along the highways.

And they have highways now upon which to walk and ride. The days of paths through the jungles have passed away. On account of the rainy seasons—says Judge

Preparing for Next Act of Bloodshed.

Elliott—the primitive roadway in the islands were little better than paths. They were impassable for teams for the greater portion of the year. The result of all this was that only those farmers who lived on or near the numerous streams could get their crops to the market of Manila. The hill dwellers were absolutely cut off from the markets and as a result they paid almost no attention to crops.

But under the condition of good roadways these hill farmers have suddenly developed into highly successful agriculturists. They are making and saving money for the first time in history and beginning to know something of the advantages which money can purchase. They have developed a great desire for education, and are attending the public schools and showing a decided eagerness to learn.

These new roadways will compare with the best grade of macadam roads in the United States. After they have been built, the interested provinces paying a fair share of the original cost, the provinces agree to maintain them, for without careful maintenance the roads would quickly disappear in the tropical climate of the Philippines. One man is stationed at an interval of a mile along one of these roads in a given time where, under the old order, there was not one, the old roads being absolutely impassable for teams. Ten thousand tons of oranges passed over a certain road in a given time where previously not a single load had passed.

Two years after we acquired the Philippine islands our imports from them were of the value of only $4,420,919 and our exports to them amounted to only $4,027,064. In 1911 our exports amounted to $17,400,258 and our imports to $19,723,113.

New areas are constantly being hewed out of the forests and new fields of sisal, ramie, hemp, coffee, cotton, sugar and tobacco are being planted. The action of President McKinley in making and of William J. Bryan in aiding to procure the ratification of the treaty of Paris by which the Philippines were acquired is being more than justified.

With the solid South behind him and such great States as New York, Indiana, Massachusetts and New Jersey falling in line, the very earliest returns made it certain beyond the shadow of a doubt that Wilson would be the next President. The returns demonstrate that T. R. never had a look-in.

TRUE CONSERVATION.

Whatever the result of yesterday's election in the Congress districts, the Pinchot policy of shutting out homestead settlers from forest and other reservations was repudiated in the platforms of all parties except the Socialists. They approve of collective ownership of land. The Republican platform on conservation says:

"We favor such fair and liberal rules and regulations as will not discourage or interfere with actual bona fide home-seekers, prospectors and miners in the acquisition of public lands under existing laws."

The Democratic platform says: "The public land laws should be administered in a spirit of the broadest liberality toward the settler, exhibiting a bona fide purpose to comply therewith, to the end that the invitation of this government to the landless should be as attractive as possible; and the plain provisions of the forest reserve act permitting homestead entries to be made within the national forests should not be nullified by administrative regulations which amount to a withdrawal of great areas of the same from settlement."

The Progressive platform says: "Agricultural lands in the national forests are and should remain to the genuine settler. Conservation will not retard legitimate development. The honest settler must receive his patent promptly without hindrance, rules or delays."

No matter what the political complexion of the next Congress may be, it will not be in the power of Pinchot's dukes to adjust their eyeglasses and seat their checker breeches on the stumps and order the homesteader and the miner away from the reservation.

"DEARIE HEART."

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

I counted them yesterday. Exactly eleven strange females in various callings of life called me "Dearie." I give you my word I had done positively nothing to deserve it. Not a thing! I regarded myself with grave scrutiny when I arrived home, and I looked quite respectable and inoffensive, neat but not gaudy, and not particularly affable.

It began the moment I left home. Nearly colliding with a dandelion on the sidewalk, she assured me "It's alright, dearie." On the street car another female picked up an old glove and asked me, "Is this yours, dearie?" At a store in town I went to buy an india-rubber and the lady told me "It's the real good kind, dearie." In the millinery department the ravishing young princess who condescended to wait upon me dearied me with every breath. It appears that I looked "real cute in that one, dearie," in quite ten of her wares.

At the luncheon place the waitress deared me affectionately with every course, and the cashier deared me in another for luck when she handed me my change. Safe at home I confidently looked for a little respite from dearies, but a lady called who was selling soap and deared me for ten minutes right off the reel.

Later another female rang me up by mistake and apologized with a voluminous dearie. Towards evening my newest neighbor favored me with a call and deared me continuously for an hour. "I suppose it's a class habit," I assured myself resignedly. But no. Shortly after that one of our most exclusive society dames had occasion to ring me up. I had never met her and she was merely making a professional inquiry, but, bless my heart, the dearies just rolled off her pretty tongue till I was positively dizzy!

I protest against this promiscuous affection. These free-for-all dearies are extremely disconcerting—and not at all respectful. They imply an intimacy which I indignantly repudiate. Dearie, indeed! Why, they'll be kissing me next!

And that's just it. Promiscuous female kissing is coming in again, too. At present it is reserved at least for social acquaintances, but it won't stop there in this democratic country. I positively won't be kissed. The first waitress that attempts it will drive me permanently to pocket tablecloths. As for the milliner—who has already cured me of wanting new hats with "dearies," I shall take to four knots and a handkerchief when they develop into kisses.

Now isn't it odd that so much slushy affection should be running riot among women just at a time when we are supposed to be so much more practical and sensible and all that sort of thing than we ever were before? Our sweet, feminine, sentimental old grandmothers would have shuddered at the mere idea of being called dearies by the shop assistant. Their terms of endearment—"dear," "dearest," "dear little," and the like—were very exclusive affairs. Indeed, and this applied equally to all classes. The shop assistant herself was very chary of her dearies in those pre-emption days.

Unless things have changed considerably since I was last in Europe, however, I believe the dearie habit is peculiar to America. I recall my amazed surprise when the woman customs officer sprang it on me at New Orleans when I first arrived in this country. I never failed to trot out on occasion—the said, "I presume this ain't real, dearie." Now I had been warned that "real" meant duty, so I smiled a genial acquiescence and let it go at that. Fancy letting two such insults go unpunished in one sentence! I paid that duty in humbled pride.

And I have been swallowing dearies ever since. But this morning was the last straw. A portly female presented herself at my door and inquired intimately whether I had any "combs" that I wanted made up into a "switch." I assured her I hadn't. "Well, it's a pity you ain't got any," she said, eying my top-knot with an embarrassingly critical gaze, "for you sure need 'em, dearie heart."

Say, dearie, wasn't she a cat?

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

Oh, this fact will bear repeating, that unless you're fond of eating, everything will seem discordant in this world that we inhabit; if your appetite is slender life will have no joy or splendor, and you'll think that this republic is skeddaddling galleys west. Brooding prophets, gloomy danders, say we're going to the spandels, government is all corrupted and we're headed for the dump; but if they were only able to get busy at the table, things would seem far more attractive, and their gloom would have a slump. Nearly all man's earthly troubles would be evanescent bubbles, could all people eat with gusto, morns and eves and snary noons; could they shovel in their cruties beef and beans and boiled potatoes, succotash and ham and spinach, macaroni, pies and prunes. They could not be drawn with horses to the courts to get divorces if their appetites were working come from folks with balky stomachs, would find this life less hollow if they had desire to swallow blackwell cakes and eggs and doughnuts, scrambled rice and shredded hay. Life should be and is a blessing, and the wails and sighs distressing come from folks with balky stomachs, though they eat off misplaced the blame. Learn to eat with frenzied ardor, take a fall out of the larger, and you'll soon be quite enamored with this cheerful human game.

Give thanks, O weary soul, For struggle and for strain That brings such golden grain The race that has no goal— And for the blows and stings That give the gift of pain.

Give thanks, O bleeding heart, For all the flaming sword, Thrust rude against thy chest And for the scathed smart That makes thy bosom yearn To spare e'en crawling worms.

Give thanks, O troubled mind, For error and for doubt, That brings relief about— And for the evil deed That wakes truth from its slumber.

Give thanks, O spirit sad, For all the common good, For human brotherhood, The hope that makes us glad— The signs on land and sea Of immortality!

GREAT SPEED AT WHITTIER.

Football Boys Are Wonders in Getting There.

Strong in Showing Beauty of Forward Pass.

Occidental to Have Hard Time in Winning.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

If the Occidental-Whittier game next Saturday afternoon on Hatfield Field is not one of the wildest, hard-fought games of the season, it will be because some of the finest football players in the state are taking part in it. Whittier is a small college, but it has a football team that is well known in the state. The Occidental team is a new one, but it has a few players who are well known in the state. The game is expected to be a hard one, and it will be a good one to watch.

WELL DIG, OSCAR, DIG.

Mr. Sporting Editor, Honored Sir: Me and Oscar Beaver was looking into the pink pages this morning, both of us being, as you might say, sports. That is, we'll both bet when we think we've got a cinch.

Now here, Oscar bet me five smackers that the Dutchman, meaning Wolgast, would kick the roof off this Creolo pride, Mandot. Your paper says he did it, but Oscar won't turn loose the snit. He flashes me another account which relates that while Mandot had the Dutchman going the finish and did the most effective work, still the "consensus of opinion" thinks as how a fair decision would have been given it a draw. What kind of stuff is that?

I'm as game as anybody when it comes to cashing a bet, but I hate to take the worst of it. Mandot won, didn't he? The Times says so, and where does this "consensus of opinion" come in? I want my dough and Oscar won't give it to me. He hides behind this consensus thing, the same as if it was a brick wall.

That's why I say these no-decision things are the bunk. I don't want to know what some referee might have done if he hadn't done something else. I take the fight by rounds for mine, and if I win, I want my dough. Oscar says he's willing to do the fair thing and leave it to Tom Jones to decide.

That's the kind of a sport that Oscar Beaver is and he ought to be showed up. Tom Jones! I don't know him, but I'm willing to bet the small yellow one that Oscar owes me—and won't pay—that as soon as Tom Jones catches his breath, he'll begin to send telegrams all over the country, saying that Ad won from here to Baskettehwa and back. Even in case Mandot had knocked Wolgast as cold as a banker's heart, Tom Jones would have dug up an alibi somewhere.

What I say is this. Let Tom Jones dig up an alibi somewhere.

What I say is this. Let Tom Jones dig up an alibi somewhere.

WHAT KIND OF STUFF IS THAT?

Carry bring those boys here and pull off a real bottle over the distance. And the next time I make a bet with Oscar Beaver, I want to hold the money.

The way it looks to me, Ad lost everything but the long end of the money and the title. Oh yes, and the consensus of opinion. That was for him, strong.

Betting on a no-decision affair reminds me of the little trick that Oscar Beaver pulls on me the other night. We went into a saloon to have a T-bone and trimmings and Oscar says to me:

"Have you got three silver dollars? Let me have 'em a minute. I'll give 'em back."

Well, I ought to have known better. With Oscar Beaver, as long as I have, he'll slip me the three heavy ones and he'll end me down on the tablecloth.

You'd bet that there were three smackers there, wouldn't you? he says.

BERKELEY MEN ARE CONFIDENT.

Think They Have Better Team Than Stanford.

Backfield Best Ever Shown by Blue and Gold.

Everything Was Sacrificed This Year to Speed.

Special Correspondence to The Times.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA. Nov. 4.—Despite the fact that every man on a Rugby team is essential and in place in the most advantageous position, there are some of the players who are bound to figure more in the line of action, and come in for the biggest share of the action. These are the seven men who serve in the backfield, and it is true that they are the players who furnish most of the sensations.

In the game between California and Stanford there should be some fast work and superior offense displayed and the seven men who spread across the field in opposite lines for the scrum may furnish some of the sensations for the expected 25,000 spectators.

Never before has Stanford put such a formidable combination of backs into a game. Every man has proved himself an individual star this season, and every man on the team realizes that he has gone through a long and hard season, and is now in the best of shape to win.

Starting with the two opposing half-backs, a comparison might be made. Monte Morris will be the man to receive the ball from the California pack. He is without doubt, the most daring half-back that ever played on a Blue and Gold team. He is a superior generalship is expected to hold the team together. Opposed to him will be the speedy Louis Kane, who has not had as much experience in intercollegiate matches on account of being kept out of the game last year because of injuries. He is a thorough strategist.

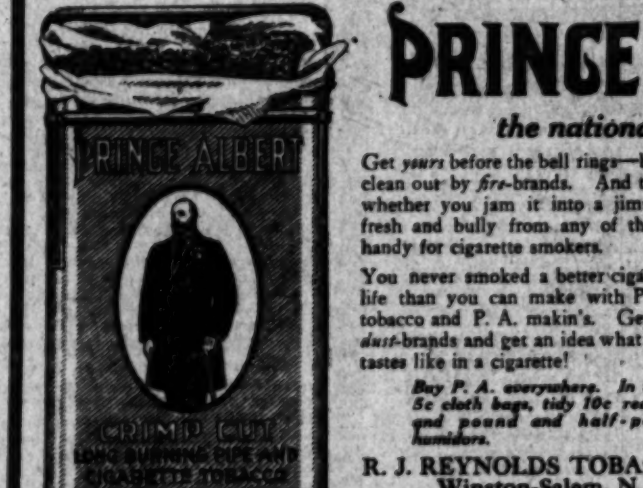

For five-eighths, California has Capt. Johnny Strand and Freshman Hassel. Stanford is likely to play Rilling at inside five and Harrigan at outside. Stanford has the advantage of playing two veterans in these important positions. Rilling is a clever man on the offense, and has an intimate knowledge of Rugby, having played with the fast Palo Alto fifteen before coming to college. Freshman Hassel has improved wonderfully in the past few months, and is now considered one of the strong players on the Blue and Gold team. At outside five, California has an advantage. Johnny Strand is one of the hardest tacklers that ever wore a Rugby uniform, and is a factor in all offensive rushes. Phil Harrigan is no mean opponent, however, and besides being clever with his boot, is one of the hardest men to pass in the open field.

As for the two three-quarters and the half-backs, there is not much choice, although the Blue and Gold has to be conceded a shade on account of Morris and Strand. The fact is, the backs are a great deal of the game, and the scoring plays are culminated here. We have six men who will put up a great show. At center, California has the veteran, and a former All-Rocky Mountain back, has been playing for Stanford for three years, and is a factor in all offensive rushes. Phil Harrigan is no mean opponent, however, and besides being clever with his boot, is one of the hardest men to pass in the open field.

Tobacco that's got the punch

—that hits the spot on every fire-up in your old jimmy pipe; the red-blended, red-tipped brand that's just as much your smoke after one round as after a thousand; the one tobacco in the world that has the bite cut out by a patented process and can't sting your throat—say, that's the greatest that ever lived!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO. Winston-Salem, N. C.

PRINCE ALBERT the national joy smoke

Get your before the bell rings—before your pipe-jaw is knuckled clean out by fire-brands. And take it straight, this holds good whether you jam it into a jimmy pipe or roll up a cigarette. Fresh and bully from any of the four packages—the 5c bag, a handy for cigarette smokers.

You never smoked a better cigarette in your life than you can make with Prince Albert tobacco and P. A. makins'. Get away from dirt-brands and get an idea what real tobacco tastes like in a cigarette!

Buy P. A. everywhere. In tippy 5c cloth bags, tidy 10c red tins and pound and half-pound tins.

MANY CONTESTS FOR SATURDAY.

SIX MINOR FOOTBALL BATTLES ARE SCHEDULED.

Pasadena First Team Is to Journey to San Diego to Meet Valk's Bench-Long Beach Match With Aggregation at Escondido—Santa Monica to Clash With Y.M.C.A.

Southern California High School eleven are to have a busy day on the gridiron Saturday.

The Pasadena first team is to go to San Diego and play Mark Valk's combination. San Diego lost to Chaffee Union High three weeks ago, but since then the coach, who is a former All-Rocky Mountain back, has whipped the team into much better shape and it should be able to hold its own with Pasadena.

Long Beach High is to play Escondido at Escondido. Long Beach seems like the winner, but there is always a chance for a slip-up and the southern team is known to be a fighting bunch.

Chaffee Union is to line up against Santa Monica High.

both the semi-serious and ragtime sections in a manner that is pleasing.
His baritone solo, which he plays his own accompaniment for, are worthwhile. Krol Collins, Mme. Dossena, Butcher Trio and Happynia Robinson remain.

At a conference yesterday between Manager Oliver Morosco, Frank Baum and Louis Gottschalk, it was decided that the title of Mr. Baum's new musical spectacle for which Mr. Gottschalk has been engaged to write the music, will be "The Tik-Tok Man," instead of merely "Tik-Tok," as was heretofore announced. Mr. Baum has already completed the book and Mr.
Gottschalk has commenced work on the music, twenty-four numbers in all.

Charles R. Bradford, advance manager for Valeska Suratt, who comes to the Majestic Theater next week in "The Kiss Waltz," informs us that Miss Suratt changes her gowns on the stage fourteen times in one act, all of which would lead us to believe that Miss Suratt is not only a singing comedienne, but a clever rapid-change artist. Mr. Bradford also emphasizes the fact that Miss Suratt, considered a "physically perfect" woman, does not know the meaning of the word corset.

Miss Suratt travels in her own special car attached to the special train which bears the other members of the company and the elaborate production.

Speaking of "The Kiss Waltz" reminds one of the fact that there will be plenty of musical dancing creations in our midst next week. While Mrs.
Suratt, aided and abetted by Edward Lorraine and fifty others, are teaching Majestic patrons some of the
"The Kiss Waltz," Vera Cowell and George McGarry and a company of dancers and Hawaiian instrumentalists will show the patrons of Deane Worley's Empress Theater something of "The Waltz Dream." This is to be the headline feature of the ballroom and Casino Road Show, which comes to the Empress Monday afternoon.

Treasurer William Ernst of the Burbank Theater announced yesterday that the advance sale of seats for the performance this week of "The Kiss Waltz" is the biggest in the history of the remarkably successful career of the Oliver Morosco emporium of art. In fact, if present conditions continue, seats are very apt to be at a premium before the week is out.

James Forbes's well-known comedy success, "The Traveling Salesman," has been selected as the play to follow "Speed" on the Belasco stage, after which Manager Morosco has decided to produce for the first time anywhere, at the Belasco, Childs Harold's new comedy, "Wedding Bells."

Few people who witnessed Monday night's performance of "Speed" at the Belasco knew that Ione McGraw was not Florence Oberle, who was down on the cast list, but the actress who Caroline Taylor, the female speed maniac in the piece. Miss McGraw jumped into the part with but a few hours' notice and read her lines in an absolutely perfect manner, so perfect, in fact, that few could have detected the fact that she had only had an opportunity to barely run over the part and have one quick rehearsal of the "stage business" of the piece.

Miss McGraw's assuming of the role was due to Miss Oberle being taken suddenly ill following the final performance of "The Money Moon" Sunday night, forcing her to withdraw from the cast of "Speed."

Rehearsals are now under way on the Burbank stage for the first stock company performance of Paul Armstrong's recent success, "A Romance of the Underworld," but the success of "The Escape" makes it safe to predict that the theatergoers will not have an opportunity of seeing "A Romance of the Underworld" for some time to come.

IDENTIFYING MALARIAL GERMS.
An Expedition to South America
Obtains Some Valuable Information Regarding Cause of Malaria.

(Dallas News.) Dr. Charles Cassedy, of New Orleans, has for some time been conducting experiments with the parasites which have in recent years been proved to be the cause of malaria. These parasites destroy the red blood cells and also impart to the blood a virulent poison. The problem was to get these microscopic or-

They Will Appeal To The Most Critical of Your Friends

Their quaint designing and unusual shapes set them apart from the usual Christmas gifts of Silver and Cut Glass

—In the Sheffield Plate—Sandwich Trays—in filigree pattern—very good style in their simplicity—

Cracker and Cheese Outfits—the flat, flaring dish for the crackers with a place in the center for the silver pedestal that holds the glass dish for the cheese—

Silver Holders for the Guernsey earthenware baking dishes—

Quaint ramekins of the pale pink or green, with gold leaf design—in little silver trays—

The most English of Toast Racks—And Stunning Punch Bowl sets—the big center bowl—and the miniature bowls for serving—These on a big, flat tray.

Prices on this Sheffield Plate are very reasonable. For as little as $1—a dainty bonbon dish.

Cut Glass in The New Shadow Design

And Cut Glass with all of the glint, sparkle and shine

There are the most artistic "fruit sets"—the high, flaring center bowl and the smaller bowls for serving—

A Sherbet set—almost "Mission" in its simplicity of cut and shape—

The daintiest little lemon dish in daisy pattern—
And the loveliest bonbon dish in the "stone" pattern—a rather shadowy design, showing the full blown rose with its leaves and thorns.

Then of course almond and olive dishes—quaint little sugar and creamers—and gracefully flaring water pitchers.

These are reasonably priced, too—$1 for one of the bonbon or olive dishes organisms to grow outside of the human body. The solution was found by Dr. Bass last winter for the first time in the history of medicine. This advance has made possible a fuller study of the nature and treatment of malaria than has as yet been practicable.

As the severe cases of malaria were not numerous enough in New Orleans to furnish sufficient material for completing his investigation, Dr. Bass expedition to Central America was organized last April by the Tulane School of Tropical Medicine, of which Dr. Creighton W. Loomis is the head, for the express purpose of the further study of malaria. Dr. Bass, an assistant professor in the school, accompanied by an assistant, Dr. Foster Mathew Johns, proceeded to Panama, and, with all the facilities of the government hospitals under Col. Gorgas at his disposal, spent some weeks endeavoring to secure in artificial cultures the same stages of growth that the malarial parasites go through in the human body. In this he was ultimately successful. Specimens of these growths have been sent to other schools of tropical medicine and research institutes throughout the world. Full details of the methods used have just been published in the

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

A Criticism of the Whittier School. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Board of Trustees of the Whittier State School held their so-called investigation and placed their seal of approval on all the acts of the present administration, and the school, under the guidance of its new trustees, were allowed to grow in its service, but to no avail. The king can do no wrong! And the Whittier school is no exception. The man who, when a negro inmate committed an offense punishable by a whipping, heroically bared his own body and took unto himself the punishment. The moral effect of this brave act seems to have been nil. It has been necessary to whip offenders since that memorable occasion, and the superintendent has not again offered himself as a sacrifice.

Such has been said for and against the "honor" system. It has produced good results when applied to full-grown, mature men and administered in a sane way, but it is an entirely different matter in the case of mentally deficient, immature youths. They are not sufficiently developed to be able to appreciate the same theories that in some instances have been successful when tried out on grown men. The discipline as necessary in all schools or reformatories simply does not exist at all. It has been demonstrated throughout the world that reform school inmates are not capable of ruling themselves. If they were they would not be there. In the progressive spirit with which jobholders are so imbued at the present time, that dictates the policy of sending boys back into the world less susceptible to restraint, and more vicious in many cases than before being committed to the Whittier State School.

Against the law to sell tobacco in any form to a reform school inmate is this commercial age. Laws are broken faster than they are enacted when there is a fat profit attached thereto, and out at Whittier the way is made easy. There is no lack of the "makings," and a chew is usually to be found, if anyone took the trouble to look, repeating stunts in the cheeks of the boys who are addicted to the use of it.

The policy of supplanting men of experience in reform school work with inexperienced ones, who are given employment by the State, was only a recommendation, one that had only been in this country a few weeks and had prepared himself for work of this character by serving as a valet on the other side of the pond, where doubtless valets are more appreciated than in this democratic nation. Capt. Holland was placed in command of Co. "C." Under his drastic treatment boys rebelled and ran away. But the humane superintendent upheld him, strange as that may seem, and he is now high in favor.

Another instance is the case of a night watchman, Capt. Johnson. He was assigned to Co. "B," composed entirely of very small boys, who rarely if ever attempt to escape. Mr. Johnson whipped a couple of the little fellows severely one night. Johnson had no authority to punish anyone, but he was not discharged. The "honor" system would seem almost a farce.

A member of the superintendent's immediate family, upon being asked why he did not stand while the daily economy of retreat was being blown by the bugles, replied, "That is not my day. I am English, you know." In the remote corners of the earth, in our far island possessions, it is customary to stand at attention when the Stars and Stripes comes fluttering down at sunset. It has become a custom universal. And those who show that respect for the flag are not, as in this instance, drawing their sentences from the State, holding the position of authority, and summarily teaching the young ideas how to shoot.

And then, under the banner of discipline and petty jealousies, one by one the experienced officers are resigning. In the opinion of those qualified to judge, the present policies are wrong. There is nothing new under the sun, and the old-fashioned ideas have been tried out in other States and have failed. And so it will ultimately be shown in this case, and in the meantime, the State pays $100,000 a year.

DISCIPLES OF SHAKESPEARE.

Pasadena Women Desert the Bard Temporarily.

Three Hundred Women Discuss Cooking Methods.

Baptist Pastor Will Go to Africa to Preach.

PASADENA, Nov. 5.—About 300 women yesterday attended the first of a series of meetings which are to be held this winter by the Shakespeare Club in an effort to reform the methods that prevail of cooking and eating food. Some decided changes are advocated.

Yesterday the programme consisted of a lecture by Dr. Margaret Goettler, a local physician, followed by a demonstration of the preparation of the dishes that she recommended. Much enthusiasm was manifested, and the members of the club and others who were present crowded about a table in the reception room to get a taste of the unique victuals.

"It is up to the women to get the right things at the stores," said Dr. Goettler in her revolutionary address. "If you cease to buy those things that are not healthy they will soon stop manufacturing them. The women hold everything in their hands."

Dr. Goettler touched upon various phases of the question of eating. She declared that irregular eating creates a desire for strong drink, and that, as a rule, food is eaten too quickly for good health.

"The children at school should have an hour and a half at noon in which to eat their lunch," she said. "Anything less than this is criminal, and I wish that you ladies would give it proper thought. People are careful to feed a horse in the right manner, but when it comes to human beings they do not know anything about it."

She asked that stoves be abolished and that only fireless cookers and steamers be used, and urged her hearers never, never, under any circumstances, to eat any food that has been heated.

"I think," she said, "that most women have not the faintest idea of what it means to be healthy and full of energy."

Dr. Goettler then proceeded to read a list of ideal food combinations. She asked her auditors to take lead pencils and paper and make a memorandum of the items in the order that she read them.

"I don't want you to think," she concluded, "that in what I say there is anything extreme or fanatical. It is simply common sense. You are born to live, plain and simple. Jane Adams is a womanly woman, and we need more like her, but I do not agree with her that the death of children registers the wages of the fathers. It is largely because the mothers do not cook properly."

Mrs. Calvin Hartwell, president of the club, presided, and some of Dr. Goettler's remarks were loudly applauded.

CITY BRIEFS.

Ray and Mrs. J. G. Van Gelder of North Pasadena, who are to go to Africa as missionaries, under the auspices of the Tremont Baptist Church, expect to leave in a few days. They were to have left October 20, but their young son was taken sick and they were compelled to alter their plans.

Recent reports of school attendance show that boys outnumber the girls by sixty-nine.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gault of Oak Knoll expect to leave soon for a trip to Europe. Their two daughters and son will accompany them to New York, where they will visit for a while and then return to Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Barkley, who formerly lived in Iowa, and who are now in Burlington, Iowa, are expected to return here.

A REMARKABLE JAPANESE ACT.

Not Only Buried the Russian Dead About a Week Ago, Erected Monuments and a Marble Temple.

[The Advance.] A recent traveler through Manchuria gives a picture and a description of the great cemetery which the Japanese have nearly completed and which some time ago they consecrated to the Russian dead who fell in the battles about Mukden.

In their previous retreat the armies of the czar left thousands upon thousands of their fallen comrades unburied. After the fighting of the Mikado collected every last bone and every bit of ragged uniform and every broken weapon which the Russians had left upon the field and buried them with soldierly honors. In the center of this vast plot they inclosed a marble temple, and the Japanese have left upon the field and buried them with soldierly honors.

Over the graves of the common soldiers in the Greek form, were erected and over the graves of commanders crosses of hile marble. Then as a pivot to the converging lines they reared a terrace, and on the terrace they built a marble temple, all at a cost of $5,000,000.

Not Only Buried the Russian Dead About a Week Ago, Erected Monuments and a Marble Temple.

[The Advance.] A recent traveler through Manchuria gives a picture and a description of the great cemetery which the Japanese have nearly completed and which some time ago they consecrated to the Russian dead who fell in the battles about Mukden.

In their previous retreat the armies of the czar left thousands upon thousands of their fallen comrades unburied. After the fighting of the Mikado collected every last bone and every bit of ragged uniform and every broken weapon which the Russians had left upon the field and buried them with soldierly honors. In the center of this vast plot they inclosed a marble temple, and the Japanese have left upon the field and buried them with soldierly honors.

In Remarkable Auto Accident.
At Main and West Adams streets yesterday. The autos collided simultaneously with the same street car, bounced back and collided with each other. The smaller car crossed the street and went through the front of a drug store. The lower view shows how it looked afterward. The top picture is of the interior of the drug store looking toward the street.

AUTOS BEST TROLLEY IN IMPROMPTU BILLIARDS.

MRS. L. RAPP of No. 267 West Twenty-eighth street, who was seriously injured, two automobiles, a street car and a drug store figured in a remarkable accident at the intersection of Main and West Adams streets yesterday morning.

Both machines were badly damaged by striking the car and then colliding with each other. The smaller car, a taxi, was further damaged when it shot at a tangent across the street, jumped the curb and sidewalk and went through the glass front of the L. B. Wagner drug store, No. 2660 South Main street.

Mrs. Rapp, in occupation of the taxi, was cut by flying glass and bruised by being hurled against the front end of the car. After receiving emergency aid at the drug store, she was removed to her home. It is feared she may have sustained internal injuries.

Mrs. H. Hackett, No. 323 Clinton street, driver of the taxi, and Bert Chellis, who was at the wheel of the taxi touring car, were not injured.

Hackett was driving south on Main street, and Chellis came from the west on Adams street. They and the street car, No. 436 of the Main street line, reached the intersection at the same moment and collided, each auto striking the trolley car, bounced back and their course deflected, crashed into each other.

Chellis's machine came to a standstill, having lost one of its front wheels. The taxi ran at a tangent towards the southeast corner of the intersection.

As the front wheels struck the curb, the taxi exploded with a loud report. Leaping into the air, the machine cleared the gutter and jumped over the sidewalk. Before Hackett could get out, the taxi was flying through the air, and she was hurled into the air.

One window was shattered, the frame of the front door was splintered and a show case inside the store was wrecked. When the taxi came to a stop it was half inside the store, with the rear wheels on the sidewalk.

GREAT REALTY DEAL AT NINTH AND HILL.

THAT the time immediately preceding a Presidential election is like any other time in Los Angeles is strikingly attested by the fact that several important deals in real estate were closed yesterday and Monday in this city. In most eastern places a general tie-up of business operations at such a moment of political uncertainty is commonly expected—here the wheels of progress whirl smoothly on without the suggestion of a halt.

One of the largest and most significant transactions of the year in the downtown district was formally concluded yesterday morning when Arthur H. Fleming of Pasadena acquired from a syndicate of local capitalists the southeast corner of Ninth and Hill streets for a consideration reported to have been in the neighborhood of $150,000. The deal, which was closed through the Wright-Callender-Andrews Company, representing the sellers and Thomas C. Bundy & Co., acting for the buyer, involves a practically unimproved property fronting ninety-five feet on Hill street by 125 feet on an alley on Ninth street.

The recent purchase by the Crown City mill-millinery of the southwest corner of Ninth and Broadway for a consideration of approximately $450,000, was announced exclusively in The Times several weeks ago. In this deal, as in the transaction of yesterday, Fleming was represented by the Bundy company. The purchase concluded yesterday gave the wealthy Pasadena one of the largest and most valuable of downtown holdings, the combined acquisitions constituting a holding with a double frontage on Broadway and Hill and extending along the south side of Ninth street from the former of these thoroughfares to the latter.

Fleming has announced his intention of eventually improving the two sites with modern structures in keeping with the metropolitan advance of Los Angeles. For the present it is probable that "tax payers" in the form of one-story store buildings will be erected, these to stand until such a time as the owner feels that the large-scale development is warranted. Charles G. Andrews, who personally represented the sellers in yesterday's transaction, states that other important deals involving fine improvements, are brewing, and that the demand for centrally located property is strong.

Andrews, in conjunction with Glenn N. Deuel, of the Wright-Callender-Andrews Company, closed on Monday the sale for the United Investment Company, and Cora F. Freese to H. M. Gorman and associates, of the southeast corner of Tenth and Flower streets, the consideration being given at $110,000. The site, which fronts 110 feet on Tenth street by 120 feet on Flower street, is improved with a three-story apartment house and a number of frame dwellings.

Glenn N. Deuel and F. M. Vale, of the same company, have just sold for Hattie F. Taggart to Theresa von Breton the northeast corner of Grand and Jefferson streets, the consideration being reported at $23,000 cash. The lot is 50x150 feet in size and is improved with a one-story brick building.

Paul Bullock with the same agency, has just sold for Tielia Rohr to W. A. Strong 50x110 feet, improved with a two-story residence, at No. 1702 South Flower street. The purchase, involving a consideration of $19,000 cash, was made for investment.

Panama Worthless Checks on Merchants and Then Drops Out—Many Interested in His Capture.

Harris Detective Agency operatives, Central Station detectives and members of the local lodge of Elks, assisted by prominent merchants, are trying to locate a tall, polished, well-dressed elderly man who dropped out ostentatiously into town a few days ago, passed $27,110 in worthless checks and quietly disappeared.

He registered at the Hollenbeck as George Higgins of Arizona. He spoke so familiarly of so many persons living in the larger municipalities of that commonwealth it was impossible to tell from who he hailed, especially as he didn't go that far into particulars.

"With a rubber stamp bearing the name 'The Los Angeles Realty Investment Company,' and the pen signature of a supposed C. E. Ellis, he experienced little trouble in passing the following checks:

The Wuerker Jewelry Company, $1,500; Hollenbeck Hotel, $500; Hyman Theater Bar, $27.10, and H. H. Mason Paint Company, $27.20.

To a $25 check Higgins is accused by the police of having forged the name of H. C. Carewood. It was impossible for the first four checks were readily accepted by merchants, who momentarily mistook the Los Angeles Realty Investment Company, a mythical concern, for the Los Angeles Investment Company. These checks have been placed in the hands of the Harris agency. The police have the Carewood paper, and the Elks are interested in Higgins's arrest because he posed as a member of Lodge No. 287, Pasadena, N. J.
